FORM FEDERATION OF IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATIONS

Discuss Sludge System for Sewage Disposal; Seek
Further Information

Discussion of the activated sludge system for sewage disposal was the principal business at the meeting of what is to be known as the Federation of Improvement associations of Glendale, held in the Chamber of Commerce building at 8 o'clock last night.

The association is composed of representatives from five improvement organizations in Glendale, and from the civic committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Its aim is to consider various serious questions which are pending and to get action on the needs of this city.

Dr. Jessie A. Russell, chairman of the organization, read a short explanation of the sludge system which oxidizes and purifies the sewage by means of oxygen-bearing sludge. The sludge is then precipitated and the nearly-pure sewage is either run into a water course or turned into fields or orchards, where it is said to be of value as an irrigator and fertilizer.

Tells of His Tour
W. E. Hewitt, chairman of the advisory committee on sewers, and the speaker of the evening, was then presented. He gave a few more details of the sludge system which in his opinion is the only way to take care of Glendale's sewage.

He told of systems and conditions in various towns in Southern California which he visited recently on a tour of investigation. "The necessity for a sewer system in Glendale," he declared, "is not even debatable. From both a sanitary and a financial standpoint we cannot afford to delay in beginning active preparations for such a system."

"We are spending in Glendale somewhere between $100,000 and $150,000 a year for cesspools and they don't solve the problem. The ground will only absorb so much sewage, and then the poison will spread through the town and we'll have an epidemic."

Would Operate Lives

Motion Pictures to Be Church Debate

"Resolved, That We Recognize in the Motion Picture Invention a Great Aid Along Social, Educational and Moral Lines, and Recommend Its Use to the Careful Consideration of Our Church Officials," is the interesting subject which has been selected for a debate to be held Friday night at the First Methodist church in connection with the monthly gathering of the men of the congregation.

The debaters will include the following representatives of three classes: Men's Bible class, C. H. Bott and R. M. McGee; Young Business Men's class, Prof. W. D. Root and A. D. Dunlop; Baraca class, Dr. Tunison and Elwood Ingledue.

The debate will comprise the social feature of the gathering, which will be started at 5 o'clock by scheduled baseball game on the intermediate school diamond. Following the ball game the men will assemble in the banquet hall of the church, where a "sandwich dinner" will be served. The evening's pleasure will be concluded with the debate.

Shriners and Friends to Banquet Tonight

Shriners of Glendale will banquet tonight at the Broadway inn at 7 o'clock, their wives and friends being the special guests of the occasion, according to a notice sent members by E. F. Heiser, president of the local club.

Reservations for this affair are limited to 50 and Dr. G. Kaemmerling, chairman of the entertainment committee, promises a program of local talent, which will occupy every minute of the evening. The Shrine club orchestra will provide several numbers and furnish the music for dancing. The Shrine club chorus will sing.

A buffet luncheon under the direction of H. C. Vandewater will be spread at 9 p. m. and refreshments will be served throughout the evening. Charles Hahn, secretary of the club, is in charge of reservations, with offices at Room 11, Cole & Damerell block. He is urging 100 per cent attendance.

Formal or informal dress is permissible at this meeting, although it is probable the latter will cost something, as all of the officers have dress suits.

LEGION MEETING FRIDAY

A big program is scheduled for Friday night's American Legion meeting, a special committee having guaranteed to have something of interest for every member. It is necessary that every Legionnaire attend and bring with them as a member for membership as a forerunner to the great building program to be announced soon.

Mines To Reopen

PITTSBURG, July 19.—The Pittsburgh Coal Producers' Association, after an executive session today, announced they would re-open the bituminous coal mines in western Pennsylvania to "the fullest extent possible," in accordance with the invitation extended by President Harding to do so. It was announced that the miners would be offered the old war time scale prevailing in November, 1917.

C. of C. Directors Hear Hotel Report

The Glendale Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday noon heard a report on the hotel campaign now being waged to finance the project at the corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway.

George A. Whitney of the W. Ross Campbell company, who is advising the local committees, was introduced by C. W. Ingledue, and he told of the necessity of getting $12,000 additional prior to this week-end.

Harry Tremaine, who has agreed to lease the hotel, states that rapid action must be made in construction of the building as he desires to open some time around January 1, 1923, or otherwise hold off until the fall and winter season, more than a year from now.

John Bolen, who appeared in the interests of the Palos Verdes project, found it was impossible to arrange for a forum meeting at the early date set for E. G. Lewis' appearance here on July 27. He is scheduled to talk July 29 before the Commercial Secretaries' Association of Southern California which will gather at Verdugo Woodlands, Saturday, July 29, it was stated.

Edith Downey Fenton and John Berry Wed

The new wedding room of the recently-completed Central Christian church was the scene of another beautiful ceremony on Monday night when Miss Edith Downey Fenton of 539 West Oak street became the bride of John H. Berry of 237 South Orange street. An impressive ring marriage was officiated by Rev. Clifford A. Cole, pastor of the church.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Berry are favorably known in Glendale, they both having lived here for a number of years. The bride had just returned from a visit to Texas, where she was the guest of friends. Mr. Berry is employed as a machinist with the Harry E. White company of this city.

Upon their return from a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Berry will be the guests of honor at a reception to be given by the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Claudia E. Springer of 534 West Oak street. They will live in their new home, a hill home in the northern section of the city.

CALLED GRANDMA, ESTHER SMITH IS YET ALERT

Takes Much Interest In All
Daily Affairs; Considers
Bobbing Her Hair

On the vineclad porch of a little bungalow home at 410 East Broadway one can see almost any afternoon a dear old woman sitting sewing, and when she lifts her head from her needle work and her face lights up with a smile one has indeed seen a true personification of the word "grandma."

Mrs. Esther Smith, or "Grandma Smith" as she is known to her many friends, was 94 years old March 1, 1922, and up to date is the oldest resident of Glendale recorded by The Evening News. Glendale claims Mrs. Smith as a resident by virtue of the fact that she spends the summer months at the Glendale home of her son, G. S. Smith, on East Broadway. During the winter she lives with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Smith of Riverside.

Never Really Young
"No, I've never been really young," said Grandma Smith with a smile, as she put aside the linen centerpiece she was buttonholing, just to have something to do. "Because my mother died when I was very young and I had to work hard when I was a little girl and then when she came to the north there was always plenty to do on the farm."

But, notwithstanding Grandma's claim to being old, she is most alert for one going on 95 years. She enjoys splendid health and three square meals and a good night's rest are events of every twenty-four hours in her life.

Sewing is one of her greatest pleasures and she does her needlework with such neatness and quickness that it keeps her daughter-in-law busy supplying work to be done.

Regular Correspondent
Another interesting activity of Grandma Smith is her correspondence. She keeps closely in touch with her relatives and friends in White Water, Wis., where she lived for over seventy years. There she has a sister, Mrs. James Smith, who is 88 years old and confined to a wheel chair. (Continued on Page 12)

Margaret Gregg Is I. S. Brown's Bride

At a very beautiful home wedding ceremony last night, July 18, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. David Lawrence Gregg, 249 North Central avenue, Miss Margaret Gregg and I. S. Brown, 217 Loma avenue, were united in marriage. Only intimate friends and immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom were present for the occasion.

The house was very beautifully and artistically decorated with green ferns and pink carnations. The couple were married before a background of greenery, consisting of green ferns and palms and large bouquets of carnations, which made a most impressive setting.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles M. Calderwood of this city, using the Episcopal one ring service. The bride was given away in marriage by her father.

The bride was gowned in a lovely dress of white canton crepe embroidered with crystal beads. She wore a shower bouquet of brides' roses.

Preceding the wedding, a charming solo, "Because," by Guy D'Hardirot, was rendered by Miss Julia Robinson. The wedding march, "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin was played as the bride and bridegroom came into the room, by Miss Julia Robinson on the piano by Mrs. L. N. Hagood, Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was played at the conclusion of the ceremony.

A short reception was held after the wedding and refreshments of brick ice cream centered with a pink heart and wedding and fruit cake was served to the guests.

The bride and bridegroom were the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Brown left last night for a two weeks' honeymoon trip and when they return to Glendale, they will be at home to their friends at their new home at 345 West Myrtle street.

TWO AUTOS IN COLLISION

Automobiles driven by James H. Wittmeyer of 200 East Broadway and Harry Israel of 312 West Broadway collided yesterday afternoon in the 300 block on East Broadway. Mr. Wittmeyer was driving west on Broadway and Mr. Israel is reported to have pulled to the right side of the street and then turned around in the middle of the block. Mr. Wittmeyer's right running board and right front hub cap were broken.

RESIGNS POLICE FORCE

H. L. Anderson has resigned from the Glendale police department, it was announced at the city hall this morning.

'Siamese Twins' Are Victims of Thieves; Even Razors Stolen

Friends of Attorney Albert D. Pearce and Cameron D. Thoms, past exalted rulers of Glendale Elks' lodge, No. 1289, have dubbed them "the Siamese twins" because they are usually together around the club.

Thieves were reported to have robbed the former's home here recently at 119 West Lexington Drive. "Cam" knew that his twin was next and sure enough. When he left his beach home last week-end for his cabin at Big Bear some one ransacked the Santa Monica domicile.

All of which explains why he appeared at his office unshaven this morning. "They swiped my two pet razors," he said, "and that wasn't all, but it was a great plenty."

Install Officers of Rebekah Lodge 257

Mrs. Lydia Hadley of Los Angeles, district deputy president, and her installing team were in charge of the installation ceremonies celebrated last night in the Odd Fellows' hall by Carnation Rebekah lodge, No. 257, of Glendale.

At the close of the installation Mrs. Rozella Strothers, who retired from the position of acting past grand, presented her successor, Mrs. Leforce, with a past noble grand's jewel.

This was followed with the presentation of bouquets of carnations and fern to Mrs. Hadley and her marshal. A feature of the session was the presentation in open meeting of the initiation work by the incoming noble and vice grand. Representatives were present from the Van Nuys lodge and from the Eastgate and Fraternity lodges of Los Angeles.

Three candidates were received for membership. E. C. Albright and Mrs. Eva M. Albright of 118 West Acacia avenue, and Mrs. Hattie H. Brockway of 313 South Central avenue. These with four others to be received by transfer, will be initiated at the August meeting, when the Van Nuys lodge will confer the degree. Those coming by transfer are Mrs. Madge Maddox, Mrs. Nellie Kaiser, G. Bernice Kaiser and W. F. Kaiser.

Swimming Pool to Open August First

The municipal swimming pool will be opened by the first of August, according to a statement this morning by Roy C. Biddlecom, Knight of the Bath.

The Richardson Construction company yesterday was notified by the city administration that it would either have to get busy at once or be the defendant in a suit for non-fulfillment of contract.

As a result things are "humming" in Patterson park today. Five carpenters, five cement workers and two laborers are at work on the plunge. The doors and windows of the bathroom are all in now and the lockers are being installed. Cement work is scheduled to be finished today.

Meanwhile, employees of the street department are busy improving the grounds. Three men are busy with hoses annihilating weeds and cleaning up the park. A city tractor and plenty of grading machinery are on the job also.

The swimming pool should have been completed and turned over to the city before June 2, officials say.

Aid and Missionary Society Has Outing

Verdugo canyon yesterday was the scene of the regular monthly all-day joint meeting of the Aid and Missionary society of the Presbyterian church.

A picnic lunch was served by Circle Ten under the direction of Mrs. F. H. Ellers of 115 North Adams street, and Mrs. S. L. Hesse of 450 West Dryden street. It consisted of fruit salad, a great variety of sandwiches, cake and other delicacies.

The missionary meeting was in charge of Mrs. W. J. Smith of 305 North Maryland avenue. A paper in regard to the growth of the Mary Holmes' seminary at West Point, Mississippi, was read by Mrs. H. M. Martin. The Spanish-American work in the Rocky Mountains and Prof. Lawrence Jones' school at Pine Woods were commented upon.

After the Missip had been pronounced, it was agreed by the 75 present that the occasion had been most profitable and enjoyable.

MATTISON B. JONES SCORES STATE'S GOVERNMENT

Points to Great Increase In Expenses; Unfair Ruling
Made, Says Speaker

"To reduce the government of California to a science and take it out of the political game, will be my program if elected governor of the state," was the statement made last night by Mattison B. Jones, Glendale resident and prominent attorney and candidate for the governorship of California, at a gathering at Verdugo Woodlands of the members and friends of the Glendale Business and Professional Women's club.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones were special guests at the club picnic dinner early in the evening and over seventy-five people heard Mr. Jones in a brief address. Compliments Women
In acknowledging his introduction to the company, Mr. Jones took occasion to compliment the Glendale business women on their efficient organization and to express appreciation for the enthusiastic support he is receiving from Glendale in his campaign. He said he was particularly honored in having the Glendale Democratic club first suggest his candidacy and this honor was followed by the endorsement of the Democratic Club of Southern California.

"Political life has never had an appeal for me," said Mr. Jones, "but I was so strongly urged to make the race for governor that I finally consented. I would like to see the state of California put on a strictly business basis and taken entirely out of politics just as the business of a mighty corporation and should be conducted along the same lines."

Answerable to People
During his address Mr. Jones emphasized the fact that the state commissions should be answerable to the people, whom they serve. He spoke of the unfair rulings of the railroad commission and cited the unfair ruling as to the fare from Glendale to Los Angeles. He also mentioned the telephone rate between the two cities.

In considering the present regime he gave figures showing the enormous increase in the bi-monthly budget, which he feels is of unnecessary size. However, in considering state finances, Mr. Jones went on record as favoring all amounts appropriated for educational purposes.

As for the demands of the highway commission for large sums for repairs, he cited that expenditure was unnecessary and gave his opinion that when the repairs are completed more money will immediately be asked to repair the repairs.

"If I am elected governor I will be a governor of the people," said Mr. Jones, "I have briefly stated my program and the people of California will have the opportunity to accept or reject it at the primary election."

Mrs. L. N. Hagood Is Hostess Behalf Club

Games of bridge was the entertainment at the breakfast given yesterday morning by Mrs. L. N. Hagood of 216 North Orange street as a benefit for the building fund of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

Hydrangea blossoms and lilies of the Nile were the flowers used by Mrs. Hagood in arranging her home for the affair. She was assisted in receiving by her daughter, Mrs. Merritt Brown, and Miss Josephine Booth.

There were four tables of cards and the high score prize was won by Miss Gertrude Grow of Detroit, Mich., who was a guest of Mrs. A. M. Draper.

Mrs. Augustus Walden of Salt Lake City, who is visiting Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, was the other out-of-town guest.

Miss Marion Wiley Given Birthday Party

Complimenting their niece, Miss Marion Wiley of Los Angeles, on her birthday, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Puffer, Sr., were dinner hosts last night, entertaining a dinner company at their home at 452 West Vine street.

The dinner appointments were in yellow, yellow roses being used for the centerpiece, while the birthday cake was in yellow and white and yellow nut baskets marked the places.

Those seated about the table were Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Wiley and Misses Marion and Janet Wiley of Los Angeles; Ray Smith of Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Puffer, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Puffer, Sr.

DENTISTS AT CONVENTION

This week is a most inopportune time for Glendale folk to be suffering with toothaches due to the fact that the city's dentists are attending the biennial convention of the National Dentists' association, which is being held at the Ambassador hotel in Los Angeles. Among the local dentists who are taking part in the convention are: Drs. C. R. Lusby, Fay G. Stone, Roy V. Hogue, Frank N. Arnold, J. P. Lucecock, C. Albert Brandstatter and W. R. Crowl.

LONDON, July 19.—The government has concluded successful tests with airplane carrying airships, according to the Daily Express today. During the tests airplanes were launched from the "mother" airship, the newspaper said.

SOUTHLAND STRIVING TO RETAIN SUBMARINE BASE
LOS ANGELES, July 19.—Vigorous efforts to keep the submarine base in Los Angeles were being made today by Los Angeles and San Pedro residents, including many city officials and prominent members of the chamber of commerce.

MINISTER BEGINS YEAR'S SENTENCE IN WORKHOUSE
DAYTON, Ohio, July 19.—Walter Wilson Culp, Spring Valley parson who took a flyer into the realms of love with Esther Hughes, today began his sentence in the Dayton workhouse of one year for abandoning his wife and nine children. Culp was also fined $500 and costs. He will be put to work in the truck patch.

ERTLE TO REFEREE LEONARD-TENDLER BATTLE
NEW YORK, July 19.—The selection of Harry E. Ertle as referee of the lightweight bout between Benny Leonard and Lew Tendler, July 27, will be passed upon favorably, it is understood, at a special meeting of the New Jersey boxing commission today. Ertle was the third man in the ring during the Dempsey-Carpenter bout.

MILLION WOULD REFUSE WORK IF OFFERED THEM
WASHINGTON, July 19.—Of the 3,500,000 men out of employment in this country, "it is reported that 1,000,000 are floaters who would not work if they were given an opportunity," Senator Gooding, Republican, Idaho, chairman of the Republican "farm tariff bloc," asserted in the senate this afternoon in contending that over-production and over-employment are sources of the nation's economic and industrial disturbances.

CLUB WOMAN HELD ON WORTHLESS CHECK CHARGE
LOS ANGELES, July 19.—Accused of issuing a worthless check, Mrs. E. A. McClure, prominent club woman and business broker of Long Beach, was held for the superior court following her arraignment before Justice W. S. Brayton. Her bond was fixed at $1000. According to the complaint, Mrs. McClure gave a $33 check to Mrs. Alice M. Bowers, wife of a Long Beach business man, in payment for wages, the check later being returned marked "no funds."

PREMIER NORRIS RE-ELECTED BUT PARTY BEATEN
WINNIPEG, July 19.—Although Premier Norris of Manitoba was re-elected in the parliamentary elections held throughout the province yesterday, his party was badly defeated. The Farmers' party, which opposed the Norris government, captured thirty-five of the fifty-two seats for which elections were held, according to virtually complete returns today. This gives the Farmers' party control of the provincial legislature. Premier Norris' party, the Liberals, elected only ten legislators.

PEACE HOVERS NEAR IN COAL AND RAIL STRIKES

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The deep shade of indigo that has enshrouded official Washington for the last two weeks in its unsuccessful efforts to grapple with the twin industrial menaces presented by the coal and railroad strikes was penetrated today by a few rays of optimism. On top of hopeful messages from Chicago that the rail strike is yielding steadily to settlement, it became known here that tentative peace feelers have passed between the warring camps of miners and operators in Washington. Cabinet officers in touch with all sides of the industrial turmoil described the situation as "still tense, but hopeful." The eleventh hour move toward peace originated, it is understood, on the part of a considerable number of operators who are privately pessimistic over the prospects of mining coal, with volunteer workers, even under the protection of the federal and state troops. They are operators also who have always dealt with the United Mine Workers, whose districts are strongly organized and who, from the first, have favored a conciliatory policy toward the union.

MRS. CLARA PHILLIPS MAKING PLANS FOR FIGHT

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—With today an interlude before the arraignment of Mrs. Clara Phillips on an indictment charging her with the murder of Mrs. Alberta Meadows, prosecution and defense began the marshalling of forces for what promises to be one of the most notable legal battles in the history of the criminal courts of Los Angeles. Two possible lines of defense were under consideration today, it was understood, both of which, while admitting that Alberta Meadows was slain by Clara Phillips, would be intended to prove that the killing was not murder within the meaning of the law and as charged in the indictment. One suggested line of defense was that the killing was accidental—that Mrs. Phillips did not intend to end the life of the girl she fancied was her rival for the love of her husband but sought only to mar her beauty. The second line of defense under consideration, and which might be used in conjunction with the first, was that Mrs. Phillips was insane when she slew Mrs. Meadows. Defense attorneys denied today that a change of venue would be sought. It was also discovered today that Phillips is a second cousin to Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury of the United States.

NEBRASKA'S PRIMARIES DEFEAT REACTIONARIES

LINCOLN, Neb., July 19.—Progressives scored again over reactionaries in both old line parties in Nebraska's state-wide primary on the face of incomplete returns early today. The most surprising upset was that of Congressman Albert W. Jeffers, seeking nomination to the United States senate as an old guard Republican. R. B. Howell, Progressive Republican, is leading Jeffers by a wide margin. Unofficial returns on the Republican senatorial race from 529 precincts out of 1913 in the state give Howell 12,792; Jeffers 9282; C. A. Davis 8178; C. H. Gustafson 5504. United States Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock is conceded the Democratic nomination to succeed himself. His nearest contender is J. O. Shroyer, who was more than 6000 votes behind the senator at 9 o'clock this morning. Hitchcock made his campaign on his "Progressive record." Shroyer advertised himself as "the most progressive Progressive." Wets appear to have won one out of six congressional contests. Paul Manhart, Republican, light wine and beer candidate, is leading a field of five in the first district. His margin of only twenty-eight votes may be overcome by complete returns. The gubernatorial contest is also in doubt. Charles W. Bryan, Democrat, is leading J. N. Norton, Progressive Democrat, by a narrow margin. C. H. Randall, "machine" Republican, has a short lead over Adam McMullen and A. Z. Byrum, Progressive Republicans, in the race to succeed Governor R. S. McKelvie.

CALL MEETING FOR CONSIDERATION OF NEW HOTEL

Six Story Building Is Called for by Plans; Details at
Session Thursday Night

Plans for the new hotel were accepted last night by the hotel committee and will be explained tomorrow night at a special meeting in the Chamber of Commerce assembly room to which all bondholders and those interested are invited.

"While the plans are entirely different from anything we had expected," asserted Mrs. Mabel L. Tight of 612 East Broadway, "the more we looked at them, the more we liked them."

The frontage of the property on both Glendale avenue and Broadway is to be occupied by small shops one story in height. There will be nine of them on each side and two smaller stores on either side of the corner. Run along the inner side of these stores will be an arcade flanked on the inner side by a colonnade.

Six Stories High
The main entrance to the hotel will be through an arcade running diagonally back from the northeast corner of Broadway and Glendale avenue. This will be flanked on either side by triangular shaped cement court yards each containing a flower bed.

The hotel building itself will be six stories high and curved on the segment of a circle. Steel and reinforced concrete will be used in the construction. The roof will be of red tile. The front will be relieved by a balcony at each floor. There will be considerable ornamental ironwork.

An enclosed roof garden will occupy the top floor. This will have a seating capacity of a thousand people. This will be available for dances, banquets and public meetings.

The first floor will be occupied by the lobby, main dining room and kitchen and a small room for entertainments. There will be a mezzanine floor.

Total of 140 Rooms
Four floors will be devoted exclusively to rooms and apartments of which there will be 140 altogether. Each room will have its private bath and will have outside exposure.

The basement will be occupied by a large garage, which may be entered directly from the fronting on Broadway at the eastern extremity of the property. There will be storage rooms in the cellar also and each store will have access to it.

The meeting last night at 612 East Broadway was attended by about twenty persons who discussed the hotel project until midnight.

A final conference on the financial details was held this morning at the same place between H. J. Tremaine, who is to lease and operate the establishment, George A. Whitney of the W. Ross Campbell, which is financing the hotel, and three members of the local hotel committee, C. W. Ingledue, Mrs. Mabel L. Tight and S. C. Kinch.

It is estimated that the new hotel will be worth in the neighborhood of half a million dollars.

J. L. McElhany Here to Head Conference

J. L. McElhany has arrived in Glendale from Salt Lake City to assume the duties of president of the Pacific Union conference, with headquarters at 603 East Broadway. Mr. McElhany succeeds J. E. Fulton, who has gone to Washington, D. C., to serve as vice-president of the North American division of the conference of the Seventh-day Adventists.

Until recently Mr. McElhany has been connected with the Southern Union conference in Nashville, Tenn., and before going there he was in California serving with the conference in Riverside and San Diego counties. Mr. McElhany brought his wife and little daughter to Glendale, but as they haven't located permanently.

Mrs. Roberta Young Hostess at Musical

Mrs. Roberta Young was hostess yesterday afternoon at an informal musical affair at which she entertained a small group of Hollywood and Glendale friends.

A most enjoyable vocal program was given by Mrs. Virginia Freeman and Miss Helen Sayre, dramatic sopranos.

Mrs. Young's guests were Mesdames Charles Riggles, H. Adams, Margaret Johnson and Miss Frances Conlin of Hollywood; Misses Eva Kerr, Helen and Bertha Sayre and Mrs. Virginia Freeman of Glendale.

MEETING OF W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Edith Dockery of 723 South Louise street will entertain the members of the local Women's Christian Temperance Union at a "birthday" meeting in honor of the birthday of the national president of the organization, Miss Anna Gordon. All members whose birthdays are in the month of July are especially urged to be present, as well as any other members.

School Friends of 23 Years Ago Meet at Beach

What if you hadn't seen an old school friend for twenty-three years?
Wouldn't you journey from Eagle Rock to Long Beach to renew the acquaintance?
We'll bet you would, just as Mrs. George C. Fuest of 275 East Ridgeway did yesterday. Little Jane, who is said to be a picture of her mother when a girl, went along and met Mrs. Mary Keep, who has recently come from Mrs. Juet's old home town.

Two Home Builders for Dahlia Heights

L. B. Wilson, prominent realtor of the east end of Eagle Rock was the means of bringing two new home builders to Eagle Rock yesterday. He accomplished this by selling two lots in Dahlia Heights to the following buyers from Los Angeles: Gus Schlichter and G. F. Gillett, who will immediately commence building operations.

Raymond S. Church With Milton Berry

Raymond G. Church has taken a position with Milton H. Berry, Jr. in his real estate business at 528 East Colorado boulevard, the home of the famous "Oswald."

Women gainfully employed in New York state number more than 1,135,000, or about twice as many as employed in Pennsylvania.

SPEED GETS MAN AT EAGLE ROCK INTO TROUBLE

Pasadenan Has to Explain How He Got Glendale Car Without Proper Tag

Eagle Rock nearly saw a little excitement yesterday afternoon when James F. Jones of Pasadena was held for about an hour because he could not satisfactorily explain the ownership of an automobile which he was driving. Motorcycle Officer Williams took Jones in custody when the latter is said to have been going 37 miles per hour out near the Bird Rock in the direction of Pasadena. He was driving an Overland five passenger touring car of the vintage of several years ago, and on the windshield in white paint was a "for sale" sign and price, part of which had been rubbed out.

When Officer Williams looked for the registration certificate on the car, he found that it was missing. When he questioned Jones as to the ownership of the car, Jones is understood to have said that he didn't know who the owner was, and he have offered no further explanation.

Held at City Hall

Under these circumstances Williams brought the young man and his car to the city hall.

Under close questioning there, Jones finally gave out a little information, stating that he was married, was not regularly employed anywhere, and that he wouldn't be able to give bail.

Finally an employee of the King used car agency in Pasadena was summoned. When he arrived on the scene, he identified Jones as having been hired to drive the Overland from a dealer's place of business in Glendale to the King establishment in Pasadena.

Wins Freedom
After considerable questioning the two were allowed to drive to Glendale to secure the registration certificate or papers for identification of the car, it having been stated that the registration slip had been left out by mistake when the car was taken over. They returned with satisfactory evidence of the ownership of the car, and were allowed to go.

However, the last chapter of the affair has not occurred. That will be next Saturday when young Jones appears before Judge H. I. Cruzan and answers to a charge of speeding at 37 miles per hour along Colorado boulevard.

Scotch Songs and Dr. Bird's Address Feature Meeting

The meeting of the Sunrise Civic club, held last evening at the east end schoolhouse, turned out to be one of the largest gatherings the club has ever had.

There were over 125 representative east end boosters present. President Remsen DuBois Bird of Occidental made one of the most impressive talks of the evening. He was followed by a musical program by local talent which drew many compliments.

Among the many novelties in the way of entertainment for the members was several Scotch songs, made famous by Harry Lauder, sung by George T. Valance, a brother-in-law of the famous Scotch comedian.

There is no question but what this club will do a great deal of good for the east end, according to D. S. Doughty.

Mines to Be Filled With Water, Threat

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Ten thousand maintenance miners now engaged as stationary engineers and pumpers in the idle mines in order to prevent ruin of the mines, will immediately desert their posts, leaving the mines to the mercy of the flood waters if strike-breakers are employed by the operators, it was declared at United Mine Workers' headquarters here today.

MARS, GOD OF WAR, IS SPENDING VACATION IN IRELAND

By Morris

Veteran Indiana Publisher Resides In Eagle Rock City

W. D. Page, who is the grandfather of George P. Willey, and who can generally be found in the electrical store of Willey & Haimbaugh on South Central avenue, knows a lot about old-time newspapers.

Mr. Page's experience in business covers a period of fifty years. In 1874, he founded The Fort Wayne Daily News at Fort Wayne, Ind. At the start it was just a two-page affair. It grew rapidly and in a few years had the largest circulation of any paper in Indiana with the exception of the Indianapolis papers. Mr. Page sold out his interests in 1907 at which time his paper had a circulation of 10,000. He then came to Eagle Rock.

Mr. Page sees a great future for business in this vicinity and is much interested in watching the growth of The News.

Trains In Collision; Two Employees Die

ALSUM, Okla., July 19.—Two railroad employees were killed and a number of passengers were injured today in a head-on collision between a Missouri, Kansas and Texas passenger and freight train between here and Tulsa, on the Osage division of the road.

The dead are Edward Morris of Muskogee, engineer of the passenger train, and S. J. Richardson of Tulsa, head brakeman of the freight train.

A misunderstanding of train orders was believed to have been responsible for the wreck.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush
Kidneys if Bladder
Bothers You

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney diseases. Advertisement.

Trio Must Pay $1500 for Selling Liquor

Fines of $500 apiece were assessed in court this morning by Judge F. H. Lowe against Mike Murario, Louis Licetti and Secondo Teodo who pleaded guilty to selling alcoholic liquor.

Mr. Teodo, who escaped Monday afternoon when the winery was raided yesterday, gave himself up to the police authorities upon the advice of his friends.

About $18,000 has been banked in the past nine months by these two men, according to information, the police say they secured.

Senator Hitchcock Again Nominated

LINCOLN, Neb., July 19.—United States Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock has been renominated to succeed himself, it was conceded by opponents early today, after examination of incomplete returns of Tuesday's primaries. Complete but unofficial returns from 286 of the 1,913 precincts in the state gave Hitchcock 9,910 and J. O. Shroyer, 3,823. Hitchcock made the race as a Progressive Democrat.

R. B. Howell, Progressive-Republican, was leading Congressman Albert W. Jeffers, old guard Republican, by approximately 2,000 votes at 8 o'clock.

Representations Are False, Charge Made

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The federal trade commission today ordered S. J. Cox and wife, N. E. Cox, of Houston, Texas, to discontinue false representations in connection with the sale of stocks and securities of the Prudential Oil Refining company; the Prudential Oil company. Eleven hundred persons, the commission set forth, "were probably misled and deceived in the purchase of stock of several companies promoted and controlled" by Mr. and Mrs. Cox.

Manhole Cover Blows Up; Hits Dictagraph

BOSTON.—The cover of a manhole at Pearl and Milk streets was blown several feet into the air when a short circuit of electric wires caused a slight fire and explosion. According to police, a dictagraph was damaged in the office of Hayden & Stone, brokers, at 87 Milk street.

Scores Under Arrest In Cliftonville War

WELLSBURG, W. Va., July 19.—Twenty-two additional arrests of striking miners has brought the total number of men arrested in connection with the mine battle at Cliftonville to sixty-five. State police and deputy sheriffs of West Virginia and Pennsylvania are still beating through the hills and it is expected many more will soon be in custody.

MARJORIE HART HOME

Miss Marjorie Hart of 501 N. Louise street returned Monday from Hollywood, where she spent a week visiting with her uncle, F. R. Putnam. Today she went to Huntington Park, where she will enjoy several days with friends.

Hears Cry for Help, Saves His Own Son

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 19.—Police Sergeant Charles Tuley is receiving congratulations due to a fine bit of rescue work. While strolling along at English bay Tuley heard the cry of a "boy drowning." Fully dressed, he plunged into the water and grabbed the lad who was about to sink for the third time. Taking the boy ashore and looking into the face he discovered he had rescued his own son.

Vatican Note Causes Dissension In League

LONDON, July 19.—The Vatican's opposition to the British mandate for Palestine threatened to delay the meeting of the council of the league of nations. The Vatican note of protest resulted in dissensions in the league over the advisability of allowing the British to carry out their scheme of establishing a Jewish national homeland in Palestine.

Secretary of Navy Just Escapes Death

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Upon receipt of unofficial reports that Secretary of the Navy Edward Denby had barely escaped death in a fall from an airplane while flying in China, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt today dispatched an urgent cable message to the Orient requesting details of the accident.

FAMILY REUNION HELD

Julian Hollingsworth of Yuma, Ariz., who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Radcliffe Hollingsworth, Sr., of 414 East Dryden street, this city, arrived in Los Angeles last week on a business trip. Spending the week-end with his parents he was joined on Sunday by his two brothers and three sisters in a family reunion at the local Hollingsworths' home. It was the first time in four years that the entire family of six had met together with their father and mother.

VISITS CATALINA ISLAND

An outing party taking the trip to Catalina on Tuesday included Mrs. A. H. Cleveland and Miss Charlotte Cleveland of 417 West Lomita avenue, and their guests Miss Mary B. Cleveland of New York city, and Mrs. Harold Knodel of St. Louis, Mo. The Cleveland family and their guests are planning a motor trip to San Diego for the coming week-end.

ENTERTAINED AT DINNER

Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Willisford and daughter, Joy, who are visiting here from Houston, Texas, spent the day Tuesday with friends at Santa Monica and Venice. Last night they were entertained at dinner by Mrs. Irene McReynolds of 336 North Kenwood street. On Thursday night the Willisfords will be the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campbell of North Glendale.

BUSINESS GROWS STEADILY BETTER, REPORT SHOWS

Substantial Decrease Made in Number of Failures; Notes From Capital

By U. S. Press Association
WASHINGTON, July 19.—Favorable features mentioned in business are the continued increase in iron and steel industry which is now operating above the growth level; the sustained activity in the building industry which continues to make new high records each month; the marked increase in the production of automobiles and trucks; the lower interest rates and increasing demand for money; the increase in employment and the decline in business failures. The stock market also continues active, with further increases in the prices of all classes of securities. Even the textile industry, which has been somewhat backward in recent months, showed greater activity in May.

Bills discounted by the Federal Reserve Banks continued to decline in May. Both total reserves and total deposits showed a further increase, however, the loans, discounts and investments of the Federal Reserve member banks increased again and were almost $5,000,000 greater than two months ago.

For the first time in many months there was a substantial decrease in business failures, the total number dropped from 2,167 in April to 1,960 in May, and liabilities fell from $73,059,000 to $44,403,000. The latter figure is the lowest since last September.

Coal Men Secure Injunction

Another effort to compel large corporations to answer questionnaires regarding their particular industries, made by the Federal Trade Commission, ended in the issuing of an injunction in equity court when Justice Bailey of the District of Columbia, granted the Maynard Coal company of Ohio an injunction against the Commission. The Federal Trade Commission recently sought to force the large steel corporations in the east and middle west to file certain information with it regarding the industry.

In the effort to force the coal men into line the Commission held that the interests of the public demanded that the information be given. In answer, the Maynard company, which has volunteered to test out the Commission's authority in the courts, held that to provide the information desired would mean that a system of bookkeeping must be installed at a prohibitive figure. It also is held by the coal company that the Commission has no right to pry into the affairs of corporations, and that the matter is the business of the individual states.

"Favorable Trade Balance"

Whatever we may say about our foreign trade in the fiscal year which ends with the current month, its "favorable trade balance" or excess of exports over imports will far exceed that of any year prior to the war. The biggest "favorable trade balance" that we ever had prior to the war, says the Trade Record of The National City Bank of New York, was $666,000,000 in the fiscal year 1908, $665,000,000 in 1901, and $653,000,000 in 1913. In the fiscal year 1914, all of which elapsed before the beginning of the war, the excess of exports over imports was $170,653,000, and in the fiscal year which ends with this month will be approximately $1,140,000,000, or 140 per cent above that of the year preceding the war, and nearly 100 per cent above that of any pre-war year.

Plan Wool Pools

From 150,000 to 200,000 pounds of wool will be handled through fifteen to twenty wool pools formed in Tennessee and Kentucky. Woolgrowers in Virginia are also assembling wool for grading at 8 different points this year, the largest pool being at Alexandria, Va. Wool classifiers from the United States Department of Agriculture will conduct investigations in the use of Federal tentative wool grades by the local pools.

Selection by Tests

Careful selection of immigrants is advocated by Secretary of Labor Davis. "The time has come when immigration must be regulated and carried on in a business-like way," Secretary Davis declared, adding that he favored a series of tests "on the other side," and added: "We should have physical, mental and blood tests, and, above all, moral tests to prevent the kings and princes of Europe from shipping the scum of their populations to the United States."

Decisions affecting labor are reported by United States bureau of labor statistics as follows:

Contract of Employment

Failure to carry out a contract of hire on the strength of which advances had been made was held (State vs. Oliva) not punishable under a Louisiana statute, which was held to be unconstitutional as in effect establishing a condition of peonage.

An implied obligation of the employee is not to disclose trade secrets where learned in confidential relations with his employer. In a case of this nature (Vulcan Detinning Co. vs. Assman), a workman leaving employment was held to trial for disclosure of trade secrets and resultant damages.

Breach

An apprentice agreement in which a father contracted to be liable for the payment of $100 if his son should not live up to the contract was held to be binding in Putnam Machine Co. vs. Mustakangas, the decision of the court below being modified so as to require payment of the full amount agreed upon.

Where a workman had been required to deposit a $50 Liberty bond as security for the performance of a contract to work to the end of the season, and nevertheless struck and left employment, the court held that the performance was several, so that payment should be made for all services rendered; however, the bond was held forfeited because the full measure of service had not been rendered. (Englander vs. Abramson-Kaplan Co.)

Blacklisting

A statute of Oklahoma practically reads into the contract of employment a term requiring the granting of a service letter on the termination of employment. The constitutionality of the law was upheld (Dickinson vs. Perry), and a judgment for damages affirmed where it appeared that the letter granted misstated the facts and amounted to a blacklisting of the employee.

In the case of Putnal vs. Inman it was held that a credit list among the merchants of a town was not libelous, it being a privileged communication.

Minimum Wages

The minimum wage commission of Minnesota was made the defendant in a case (G. O. Miller Telephone Co. vs. Minimum Wage Commission), in which the validity of orders issued by it was challenged. The court granted a temporary injunction restraining the enforcement of orders, but the supreme court, citing its previous decision as to the constitutionality of the act, in the present case sustained the validity of the orders under it.

Payment

A workman discharged from a railroad company because of theft was held nevertheless to be entitled to pay which had accrued prior to the date of his discharge. The anti-tipping law of Iowa was held invalid, because not making proper classifications, employees only being subject to its restrictions, while employers might receive tips without incurring its penalties.

Hours of Labor

Hours of labor of city firemen were considered in Danielson vs. City of Bakersfield, the law of California fixing an eight-hour day for "laborers, workmen and mechanics" on public works being held inapplicable.

Another Hard Blow Is Struck at Tariff

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The Republican insurgents dealt the pending tariff bill another smashing blow in the senate when, led by Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin, they forced a substantial reduction of ad valorem rates proposed under cotton underwear. By a vote of 28 to 27—a majority of 1—the rate was cut from 50 to 45 per cent after an effort to reduce it to 40 per cent was defeated by the narrow margin of 26 to 29.

Republican Rebels Preparing Last Stand

LONDON, July 19.—The main body of Republican rebels in southern Ireland are preparing to make their last stand at Cork, according to a Cork dispatch to The Star this afternoon. Guests were ordered from hotels which are being barricaded and turned into fortresses. Buildings occupying positions are being seized and occupied. The rebels are commandeering all kinds of supplies.

Sheriff and Police Halt Mob of Strikers

WASHINGTON, Penn., July 19. Sheriff Otto Luellen and a detachment of state police today dispersed a mob of striking miners assembled a second time to attack the Wilson mine at Cokeburg Junction, this county. Some of the men were firing shots at the mine when the officers arrived. The sheriff induced the men to return home peacefully. The Wilson mine yesterday started shipping coal and this aroused the idle union miners.

Rapp, formerly of Glendale. Miss Rapp is planning to come to Glendale shortly for a visit at the Yarbrough home.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sanford of 692 Sycamore Canyon road and their guests, Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Mayo and son of Walla Walla, Wash., enjoyed a pleasant motor trip and picnic Sunday when they visited the Sanfords' ranch at Arlington, near Riverside. This was one of the fortunate spots that was untouched by the winter's freeze, and the orange groves in that vicinity are in splendid condition. Among the points of interest passed en route was the grounds at La Sierra Heights, where the foundations are being laid for the buildings of a new college to be erected by the Seventh-day Adventists.

BOY SCOUTS AND RAILROAD BOARD'S LEADERS LEAVE ON THURSDAY POWERS GROWING MUCH GREATER

Fred H. Killick, Life-Saver, Compulsory Arbitration of Strikes and Lockouts May Now Be Established

By J. E. JONES
Special to The Evening News
WASHINGTON, July 19.—

When the Railroad Labor Board was created as an incident of the Transportation Act the proposition to clothe the board with mandatory powers was defeated. Congress finally compromised by "leaving the teeth" out of the law, and in establishing a tribunal that can only render decisions.

The railroads are being run by their managers and the labor unions. The government "holds the bag," and in case of shortages has paid a guaranteed income to stockholders. For this privilege these private powers have permitted the government to arbitrate "in the public interest" certain differences of opinion that have heretofore caused strikes and lockouts.

The Labor Board recently "outlawed" the striking shippers because the strike was against an order of the board. The incident is pointed out as a defiance of the power and authority of the federal government. A good deal more attention is being paid to it than was accorded a similar action on the part of a great railroad system that refused to pay the wage awarded some of its employees by the Labor Board. These facts point out that the railroad managers and the railroad workers have been offending equally, both have defied the government. If the offenders might have their heads knocked together they likely would discover the truth in "The Beggar's Opera," when two of the leading characters exclaimed:

Brother, we are both in the wrong."

Drastic Steps
The government went a long way in the war when it recognized labor unions as an "institution." The Railroad Labor Board took a drastic step when it told the strikers that having refused to accept its decision that it would no longer recognize them in court. It was an attempt to "put teeth" in a toothless law. And it is little wonder that from the viewpoints of Samuel Gompers that the performance looked "bolshhevik." But in Washington where every attempt to establish courts to try labor disputes has been blocked there is unusual interest in the board's action, inasmuch as it is likely to determine whether public opinion will stand squarely in support of a government board even though it lacks mandatory powers. Students of history are aware that the early decisions of the United States Supreme court were tossed about as lightly as the decisions of the Railroad Labor Board. Perhaps the present upheaval will give power to the board that could not be secured by legislation. The present experience is rough on the strikers, but new phases in government methods usually claim their victims.

The defiance of the railroad managers and the union may result in establishing compulsory arbitration of strikes and lockouts—a principle that has long been at stake.

Big Scandal Brewing
President Harding's demand that all patents, copyrights and property be returned by the Chemical Foundation in order that they may be handed back to the German owners has created consternation in Washington.

During the war German property was seized and treated with a good deal of disregard for the German owners. It was only because of the German commercialism that was to be forever destroyed in the United States. In consequence there weren't many questions asked when these properties were disposed of to American interests. But, at the time, many of the deals were regarded as "great bargains." The outstanding bargain appears to have been in the sale of the dye patents. The Alien Property Custodian, acting under a special law passed for the purpose, transferred the property said to be worth perhaps $200,000,000 to a concern of which Francis P. Garvan, who succeeded A. Mitchell Palmer, is now the head. Palmer has been in the background all the way through, but Garvan has been in the forefront of all the transactions. It is pointed out that the vast German dye interests were sold for less than $300,000.

American Organization
The Chemical Foundation interests who secured the German dye patents during the war took up with the individuals, previously licensed by the Federal Trade Commission, the advisability of giving up their licenses and coming in under the Foundation system. At the same time the Foundation began licensing formulas of their patents to private manufacture and about 150 concerns invested some $150,000,000, including the DuPont interests, which put in $15,000,000.

The background of the present situation is this. During the war it was deemed advisable to place at the disposal of American manufacturers the formulas owned by Germans on preparations vital to the conduct of the war. Section 10 of the trading with the enemy act was enacted, giving the Federal Trade Commission power to license bona fide manufacturers to use these preparations, the patent rights, however, to remain in the government's hands and the li-

WEST SIDE WANTS SITE

Determination to have a high school site in the northwest section of the city before all available property has been subdivided is crystallizing very rapidly according to Oscar M. Newby of 803 North Pacific avenue. He stated this morning that a meeting of residents of the west side will be held in the near future and that a tangible proposition will be agreed upon for presentation to the high school board of trustees at the next public mass meeting.

VISITORS AT C. OF C.

Dr. A. F. Johnson of Gresham, Neb., and S. F. Moulton of Spokane, Wash., were among the visitors at the Glendale Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

Deaths and Funerals

MRS. LAURA A. FELLOWS
Mrs. Laura A. Fellows died Saturday, July 15, 1922, at her home 1125 East Stanley avenue, at the age of 71 years.
Mrs. Fellows, who was a native of Ohio, had resided in California for thirteen years. She is survived by the following children: Mrs. E. Pearl Calkins of Glendale; Ambrose Fellows of Rockford, Iowa; Frank Fellows of Glendale; Levi L. Fellows of Glendale; Roy A. Fellows of Denver, Colo.; Smith Fellows of Denver, Colo.; and Thelie Fellows of Burbank.

Funeral services are to be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Little Church of Flowers in Forest Lawn cemetery. Pulliam-Kiefer & Eyerick in charge. Rev. Ford will officiate.

Births

Twin twins arrived this week at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital. Both sets are girls. Both families reside in Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Marsh are the parents of the twins born Monday, July 17, 1922, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Apel of 6311 Meridian street are the parents of the twins born yesterday, Tuesday, July 18, 1922.

censees to pay over to the government treasury a certain percent of their profits as royalties. Also the trade commission had the power to fix the price which these products could be sold.

Broadcasting Powers
Many licenses had been granted for this purpose when A. Mitchell Palmer then Alien Property Custodian conceived the idea of broadening the powers of the government in handling these German patents and transferring their administration to his office. This was duly accomplished by enacting a law, a rider to an appropriation bill then pending, and the Alien Property Custodian was given the right to sell patents, copyrights, etc., which had been seized from the enemy. Licensing authority was transferred from the Federal Trade Commission to the Alien Property Custodian.

Former Attorney-General Palmer, members of the Federal Trade Commission, other high officials, and possibly even former President Wilson, as well as political leaders in both parties, appear likely to be called as witnesses when the battle of German and American dyes takes place in court.

Attorney-General Daugherty is evidently counting on making as much capital out of the dye issue as possible. It has immense possibilities when it comes to gathering excitement among the American people. But those who are inclined to the belief that Daugherty is magnifying actual conditions say that the dye matter is not unlike hundreds of other cases where it was necessary to wipe out the Germans—only it happened to be the biggest and most spectacular event among the transactions.

Senate Must Speed Up
There is a long calendar to dispose of before United States Senators will be ready to close shop for the summer. The tariff bill, soldiers' bonus and the ship subsidy are all supposed to be passed and finished within a few weeks, and from the sidelines the accomplishment of all the things on the program might seem impossible. But those who have watched the "night sessions" in former years know that the senate is capable of producing high-speed legislation, and these old-time observers expect that the administration and Republican program will be a completed volume before congress goes home in September or October.

Hold Four Farmers On Murder Charge

WELLSBURG, W. Va., July 19.—Four well known farmers of Brooke county were lodged in the county jail here today by Captain W. W. White of the West Virginia state police. The four men are charged with murder. The finding of empty ammunition boxes on their farms is said to have led to their arrest. The prisoners are: Martine Cline, 48, and his son, Shirley Cline, 19; Riley Stout, 40, and his son, Graham Stout, 19, who occupy farms close to Cliftonville, where, on Monday, during a pitched battle, Sheriff H. H. Duval and three other men were killed.

PLEASEING COMEDY OF STAGE NOW UPON SCREEN

'Turn to the Right' Is Full of Heart Throb and Has Delightful Humor

All that heart throb and delightful comedy which made the play, "Turn to the Right," one of the most popular offerings of the stage has been preserved in the screen version which yesterday began a three-day run at the Glendale Theatre. And in addition there is the added beauty which only can be attained in pictures which makes this motion picture of John Golden's stage success by Winchell Smith and John E. Hazzard one that no lover of the artistic and dramatic will wish to miss.

It pictures a story whose appeal has been testified to by millions of theatre-goers and Rex Ingram, whose production, "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," ranks him as the leading director of the silent drama, has fully lived up to his reputation in this latest Metro release.

In addition Larry Semon will be seen in "The Saw Mill." Everybody is glad that he has none of his funny frozen features amputated in the picture.

Wheat Shortage in Europe Aids U. S.

WASHINGTON — American wheat growers hold a strong position this year. American wheat is needed in larger quantities to feed the world. Europe's supply of the bread staple is low. The world's stock of wheat is below average. The world's consumptive capacity for wheat tends toward the pre-war average, while crops of all wheat-growing nations except the United States, show reduced output.

Surveys of crop output made by experts of the Commerce Department show that wheat stocks are the lowest in several years. Argentina and Australia have much less wheat than last year. The carry-over crop of the United States is comparatively light because of the heavier demands from abroad. Canada is reported to have large stocks on hand.

To meet international wheat demands the United States and Canada will share in orders, the United States keeping the lead as a wheat exporter. Experts find that wheat is passing through somewhat the same stages of readjustment as wool, cotton and other staple products. In pre-war times Europe was relied upon to absorb the American surplus as well as the surplus of other large wheat-producing countries.

The world would have faced serious wheat shortage during the past two years if surplus wheat stocks had not been accumulated as a result of heavy production during the war years, according to the expert opinion of the government. Successive large crops during the war years helped to carry the world over the lean producing years that followed the war. The records show, however, that both production and consumption of wheat have been below average for the past five years.

Wheat consumption of Central and Western Europe fell from 2,000,000,000 bushels in 1912 to 1,200,000,000 bushels in 1917. Since 1917 there has been steady recovery in production and imports by Europe. In 1921 consumption reached about 1,850,000,000 bushels. This year Europe's consumption will go back close to pre-war levels.

Policy of Waiting In Railroad Strike

CHICAGO, July 19.—The rail strike situation appeared today to have reached a stage of "watchful waiting." So far as surface indications are concerned the past twenty-four hours have seen few developments of importance and each side of the controversy seems to have adopted a policy of waiting for the next move of the opposition.

Although no definite peace plan has been announced as the result of parleys held here during the present week, belief prevailed that the course of the strike is tending toward an adjustment of the issues.

Actual Records at 59 Cents Pleasing

Actual records at 59 cents are proving quite an attraction for local phonograph owners, according to Fred V. Shuck of the Shuck Music company, 211 North Brand boulevard, who announces the arrival of the August records. He stated that four of the popular pieces are not to be found in any other brand of record. These are "Nola," a fox trot by the Don Parker Trio; "Hot Lips," a fox trot by the Sync Jazz Band; "Rustic Ann," a fox trot by Wiedoff's Orchestra; "Nobody Lied," a fox trot by N. Glantz and his orchestra; and "Are You Playing Fair?"

An airplane carrying thirty machine guns, each capable of delivering 1500 shots a minute, has been developed.

One of the latest inventions is a self-playing cornet. A music roll is attached to the side of the instrument, and all the player has to do is to blow into the mouthpiece. This cornet was invented by an English soldier.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Bears In Hollywood!
Wet Spot Quite Damp
Message From Johnson
Senator Ready To Go
By Gil A. Cowan

While the Lambs gambol in New York the Bears will be the organization of actors in California, according to advice from Hollywood.

High principles will guide the Bears. It is stated, and from all that can be learned it is an effort on the part of the profession to become more fraternal and sociable.

As it is now many of the kings and queens refuse to recognize anyone other than the business manager who hands out their checks. And that is only for a second or two.

Personally, I have seen companies wrecked for lack of true service and fellowship in the profession which caused dog to eat dog. That should not be where high ethical standards are maintained.

May the Bears succeed in bringing order out of chaos in the social life of actors and actresses and may it strangle forever the ugly, vicious people by ostracizing them from decent company.

Surely the task is a big one.

Glendale is establishing a record in the confiscation of bootleg booze. Chief of Police Fraser must get quite a "kick" out of running the bootleggers to cover. Just to think that 2200 gallons of wine—enough for each of us to have a drink—was taken in a raid out along San Fernando Road. It is almost unbelievable, but Glendale seems not to be suffering from the dry spell insofar as gay spirits are concerned.

From Washington comes the report that Senator Hiram Johnson will leave for California on Friday to plunge into the California senatorial campaign in which he is a candidate for reelection. He expects to conduct a month's campaign, issuing the following statement at the capital on the subject:

"I am going to leave for California on Friday next to meet the people of that state and to talk to them of the happenings in the senate and our government during the past year, especially of the duty on California products. The rates that are given us in the new tariff bill exceed those ever before accorded California. The senate having now acted, I feel at liberty to leave here. I am coming home, therefore, happy in our successes in behalf of California and happy in anticipation of again appearing before our people."

It is interesting to note that some of those politicians who first looked to C. C. Moore's standard in the hope that he would "save the party" are now finding themselves the victims of crafty leaders who would restore the Old Guard, according to the Hollywood Citizen, which holds no brief for either senatorial candidate.

"It means the renomination of Hiram Johnson as the standard bearer of Republicanism," says the Citizen editor, who continues: "We agree with all those who maintain that Hiram Johnson is not invincible. But against politics alone Hiram Johnson is invincible."

Outside of politics everything is peaceable in California, although the strike situation in the east means coal rationing this winter. Just so long as it does not affect our ice supply now, we should worry as to winter, says Satisfied N. Sassy of Glendale.

Girl Scouts Hold Session, Give Badges

The Girl Scouts of America, Glendale Troop No. 1, held their regular meeting last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Beach, 327 Riverdale Drive. Following the Scout ceremonial, which was held on the lawn, Charlotte Blakney was invested as second-class scout. Merit badges were presented to Alexandra Bagley, citizen handy woman; Charlotte Blakney, handy woman, and cook. The members of the troop repaired to the house for the business session, at which Evelyn Hunt presided. A committee to revise the constitution and by-laws and who will report at the next regular meeting, was appointed, as follows: Florence McLaughlin, chairman; Beryl Goodale, Dorothy Houston.

The date on which the Troop will leave on the camping trip was postponed from August 12 to 19. The Bluebird patrol of which Margaret Longley is patrol leader, carried off honors with attendance of 100 per cent. A social hour followed, with light refreshments served by the hostess.

George Engle Seeks Commission Inquiry

NEW YORK, July 19.—It is understood that George Engle, manager of Harry Greb, will request the New York State Athletic commission, which has suspended both fighter and manager, to give him a special hearing within a day or two. Engle arrived too late yesterday to attend the commission meeting at which he and Greb were set down because of the latter's failure to meet Dave Rosenberg in a bout for Johnny Wilson's middleweight title, recently declared vacant in New York state.

President Harding Assured of Support

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Prompt assurances of support came to President Harding today from governors of states to whom he addressed his telegram last night, appealing for state support in getting coal mines to running again, and offering federal aid, if needed.

Early this morning replies had been received from Governors Morrow, Kentucky; Kendall, Iowa; McCray, Indiana; Hardwick, Georgia; Hart, Washington; and Mechem, New Mexico, with others expected.

Labor Executives In Appeal for Strikers

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Labor throughout the United States was formally appealed to today by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor to actively support in every way the striking railroaders.

The appeal went by unanimous vote of the council to every labor organization in the United States, to every labor publication and to every organized labor man through federation organizers.

Jack Pickford Makes Legal Fight Threats

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—Hints of legal procedure against Flo Ziegfeld, Jr., are reported to have winged their way from "fiction" where Jack Pickford is starring in a race track picture. Jack, it is said, is more than incensed over remarks attributed to Ziegfeld and said to involve the personal character of Pickford and his fiancée, Miss Marilyn Miller, star of Ziegfeld's "Sally."

Incidentally, he stated that he and Miss Miller would be married on August 1 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks in Beverly Hills.

SPORTS IN THE OLD HOME TOWN

By WOOD COWAN

The Sport Crucible

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, July 19.—It has been the custom of many golf champions since time immemorial to become quite unapproachable and exclusive, once the title was theirs. They suddenly sensed the magnitude of their own importance and the weight of their dignity was profound.

You can look for nothing of the kind from Gene Sarazen, the ex-caddy, who beat a great field of golfers for the national open title at Skokie last week. Gene is as guileless as a Montana farm hand and just as approachable as a brook agent.

His arrival in New York was typical of the boy's lack of affectation. He simply got off the train alone and unnoted, and walked across the street to the Pennsylvania with the championship cup under his arm and then to the desk where a golf fan waited.

SPORTS CHATTER

By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Do you remember a year ago this week, July 17 to 23rd?

That Babe Ruth made his thirty-sixth homer against Cole of Detroit.

That Ruth's homer cleared a fence 560 feet from the home plate, breaking long-distance hitting at Detroit.

That Yale varsity swimming team defeated the Olympic club team at San Francisco, 33 to 17.

That Vincent Richards won the Western single tennis title at Indianapolis, defeating Walter Hayes, Chicago, former champion, 6-1, 6-4, 6-2.

That Roscoe Searles won three straight races from Tommy Milton in a match automobile race at Los Angeles.

That Elizabeth Ryan of California retained the Irish women's tennis title at Dublin, defeating Miss Wallis.

That Jack Britton, world welter boxing champion, got newspaper decision, twelve rounds, over Mickey Walker at Elizabeth, N. J.

That Willie Jackson won every round from Jimmy Hanlon at Philadelphia, Pa.

That Washington scored nine runs against Cleveland in sixth inning, making seven hits, four of which were doubles, aided by two bases on balls.

That Daubert, Everett, Minn., team, batted five homers against Pitcher Dumont at Virginia, Minn.

That the India Davis cup tennis team eliminated France at Paris.

That Pittsburgh scored seven runs against New York in the fourth, knocking Ryan out of the box.

That New York A. L. won from Cleveland and took the lead in the American league race.

That three games in American league went to extra innings—Detroit-Vashington, ten; Philadelphia-Chicago, ten, and Boston-St. Louis, twelve.

That Cleveland defeated New York and regained first place in American league. New York had won nine successive games.

That Yale and Harvard track team defeated Oxford and Cambridge at Boston, Mass., 8 events to 2.

That Rogers Hornsby with 418 and Harry Heilmann, Detroit, with 429 led the batting averages of the National and American leagues, respectively.

That George Sisler took a swing at George Hildebrand, the American league umpire, and was ordered out of the game.

That the world's trapshooting record for sixteen years was broken when a squad of four broke 209 targets at New Haven, Conn.

That Gourdin, the colored athlete of Harvard, made a new world running jump record when he cleared 25 feet three inches at Boston, Mass.

That Vincent Richards won the Rhode Island state tennis title by defeating William Tilden at Providence, R. I., in four sets, 6-2, 6-1, 2-6, 6-0.

That the American sloop "Boat-leger" won the first of a series of international races for the St. Lawrence Yacht club cup at Montreal.

That after winning eighteen successive games, O'Grady of Baltimore lost to Jersey City, 3 to 2.

That St. Louis used five pitchers against Brooklyn.

That Chicago defeated Philadelphia N. L. in eleven innings, scoring four runs in the eleventh.

TOOTS MONDT OUT FOR BIG GAME IN WRESTLING

Seeks Match With Strangler Lewis; Expects to Win Over Hackenschmidt

Joe "Toots" Mondt, who is to wrestle John Hackenschmidt at the Odd Fellows' hall here Friday night, is out looking for big game.

He is seeking a match with Ed "Strangler" Lewis, world's champion heavyweight wrestler. Any man that is considering anything like that when a match with the husky "Hack" is impending deserves some credit.

However, the Hackenschmidt match isn't weighing very heavily on "Toots' mind. The big boy was in Glendale yesterday afternoon for a conference with the promoters of the match, and incidentally took a look at Carl Johnson working out in the High School Gym.

"Yes, I expect to win the match Friday night," he stated. "Hackenschmidt is a good man and I'm going to have a job pining him down, but I expect to come through with it all right."

Coach at College

Mondt was coach last year at the Colorado State Agricultural college where he developed a championship wrestling team. They took the Rocky Mountain Region College championship, and at a professional meet of the same region, where over 300 wrestlers were entered, his men took all five first prizes.

Mondt will enter the ring at about 200 pounds, he stated. That he won't get much below that is evidenced by his build and height. He seems to easily beat the six-foot mark, and wears an 18 size collar. His body is built in proportion to his neck.

"At one time I used to wear an eighteen and one-half inch collar," he said, "but now I'm in training for this match and an eighteen just about fits it now."

Works Out in L. A.

Mondt is working out at the Union League club in Los Angeles, and isn't seen much in these parts. He plans on making his first appearance in Glendale a triumphant one, and although no brass band has been arranged for to conduct him to the I. O. F. hall Friday evening, he promises some wrestling that will make the local fans sit up and shout.

A number of Mondt's acquaintances from Los Angeles are expected to be present at the little affair, and it is understood that the match is creating some excitement among his friends there.

He also expects that several friends from Colorado, where he is known as the "Colorado Bearcat," will occupy ringside seats at the event. Many of his friends, he says, are interested in seeing him try his hand in California, after his successes in Colorado.

England Defaults In Tennis Contest

NEW YORK, July 19.—Disappointment was expressed in tennis circles today because of Great Britain's default in Spain in the semi-final round of the Davis cup competition. Inability to secure a "representative team" was given as the reason, according to the cablegram from the British authorities received by the United States Lawn Tennis association.

Spain will meet the survivor of the semi-final round match between France and Australia for the right to play the United States in the challenge round.

Saturday and Sunday Battles Announced

Baseball games for Saturday and Sunday afternoons have been scheduled by John "Ty" Cobb, manager of the Glendale Merchants.

On Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on the local grounds at Park avenue and San Fernando Road, the Merchants are to tangle with the Western Wholesale Drug company team of Los Angeles. The battery for this game will be catcher "Babe" King and Walt Heidler the twirler who held down the Tujunga Valley ball club in such energetic fashion at Sunland on the Fourth of July.

On Sunday afternoon, also on the local diamond, the Merchants are scheduled to meet "Rube" El-Rivera baseball club from El-Rivera. Agasson or Harris pitching and King behind the plate will form the local battery for this game.

The Rube is said to have a great team, and Cobb intends to give his warriors a stiff workout before Sunday.

Girl Ball Player Is Fast With Bat, Feet

MANFIELD, Ohio, July 19.—"Some 'ball player'" numbers among the femininity comprising the Ohio Brass Company's girls' baseball club here.

This particular girl ball player not only is a heavy hitter, but she can "sure travel" around the bases.

In a game with the Westinghouse female team, with bases full, she hit a home run. Going around the diamond she reached home in advance of the runners from second and third.

HUGGINS NOT NOW HELD TO BLAME FOR YANKEES

Offers to Step Out, but Club Owner Says His Scalp Still Sticks

NEW YORK, July 19.—Before the season started, the New York Yankees looked like a sure repeater for the American league pennant.

The team wasn't the classiest looking in the circuit, but the all-star pitching staff looked like it ought to be good for nearly 100 games.

Instead of going away to a big lead, the club stumbled and faltered and dropped down before the season had reached the halfway point.

The reversal of Babe Ruth's form, the collapse of the pitching staff and the absence of winning spirit on the club were responsible.

Strange to say, Miller Huggins, the manager of the club, wasn't held to blame. "Last year when it rained in the sixth inning and the fans out of a rain check, Huggins was held to blame. He was the target for everything."

Scalp Not Taken

This year, however, the fans know that Huggins isn't responsible and the town is for him.

During the recent disastrous "spurt" of the Yanks, when they lost twelve out of fifteen games, Huggins is said to have offered to step out, but the Yank club owners assured him they weren't looking for his scalp.

"Go back and use the club on some of those who are throwing you down," he was told. "Fine them or kick them off the team and we'll back you up."

Some of the hard-working athletes on the Yanks ought to get the gate. They are working for two of the finest men in baseball ball and drawing big money, but things outside of baseball interest them most.

When Commissioner Landis has to gather a baseball club around him and threaten them with a five-year suspension if they do not give the proper attention to their work, no minute search must be made for the cause of their slump.

Bring Back Proof of Success at Fishing

G. W. Rich and John T. Smith returned yesterday from a fishing trip at Long Beach, where they experienced good deep sea angling conditions. As evidence for proof of his "fish" tale Mr. Rich brought back two forty-pound albicore, which he generously distributed among his neighbors and friends.

$200,000 Worth of Tires for Government

WASHINGTON, July 19.—More than $200,000 worth of tires have been purchased by the government for use "in event it becomes necessary to substitute automobile trucks in the transportation of mails as a result of the railroad strike," the postoffice department announced.

Secretary Hughes to Head American Board

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Secretary of State Hughes will go to Rio de Janeiro in September as the head of the American commission to the Brazilian exposition it is announced.

Sport High Spots

In Bud Houser, who for the past three years has been starting the sporting world with his phenomenal feats of shot putting and discus throwing events at Oxnard High school, the University of Southern California is undoubtedly assuring himself of at least eight points in the weight events of every track meet scheduled for the next four seasons. Houser's decision to attend the Cardinal and Gold institution was a severe blow to Coach Walter Christie of California, as it was generally understood that the Oxnard giant would cast his lot with the Berkeleyites.

Danny Kramer declares, "There's an end to everything." The diminutive Los Angeles boxing idol, who has secured the backing of a large majority of the fight fans in the Southland for the past few weeks, was given his first beating in a long time last night by Young George. George, who is a Mexican by birth, had the better of the going during three of the four rounds of their main event at the Vernon arena last night, the final going finishing Kramer in a considerably groggy state.

Frank Rivals of the Venice Swimming Association has announced that Duke Kahanamoku, leaping figure in the aquatic art for more than the past decade, will compete in the sixth annual "breakwater" swim at that city next Sunday afternoon. The race, which will be over a course about two miles in length, will start near Ocean Park and after circling around a huge buoy will finish at a point opposite the Venice bath house.

Admiral Solland of the Newport Harbor Yacht club has announced that the annual regatta of that organization has been scheduled for the week of August 6 to 13. Entries are expected from all parts of the state and it is thought by the management that this year's event will eclipse any of the former gatherings, both in competition and records.

Johnny Meyers, the Chicago middleweight wrestler who recently arrived in Los Angeles for the express purpose of deciding whether his or Walter Miller's claim to the midweight championship is the real one, is making diligent plans for the proposed bout with the L. A. A. C. star in spite of the fact that the match has not yet been signed up. However, it is expected that the weight difficulties will have been overcome within the next few days and the two grapplers will come to an agreement.

Tagging All Bases

The Indians are coming, is the 1922 version of the late Mr. Revere's ride. The Speaker entry ran its string out to nine straight, the longest winning streak of the season, in beating the Athletics, 6 to 3. Wood and Speaker hit home runs with one man aboard.

Glad to escape its inhospitable confines the Giants departed from St. Louis after losing the finale of the series, 9 to 8. This gave the Cards three out of four and leaves them only half a game outside the league lead. It was a free-for-all slugging duel from first to last.

Nicholson went on a hitting spree, smiting two homers off Rixey, but the Reds went on winning from the Braves, 9 to 3. Boston's third run also was the result of a homer, by Boeckel.

In an opera bouffe exhibition, the White Sox played school boy baseball in losing to the Yankees, 14 to 4. Blankenship, Schupp and Courtney were found for twenty hits. Mousel and Witt got four hits in the Yanks' only victory of the series. Hooper got his third home run in as many days.

The World Over
By FRANKLIN B. MORSE
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Someone has figured it out that disbarment from the game due to his delinquencies has cost Babe Ruth in the neighborhood of $200,000, based on his reported earning capacity of $300 a day. It is not likely that anyone will shed tears over the fact aside from Ruth himself. As a matter of fact, Ruth probably has lost that which no amount of money can repay him, and that is his standing and popularity among the fans of America. With his head turned through adulation, this uneducated young man came to think that he was getting to be greater than the national pastime itself.

There are many who believe Ruth has seen his best day and never will be able to recover the ground he has lost through his breaches of discipline and his inability to keep a grip on himself. The fact that there has been considerable in the way of rumor that the Yankee management was in a mood to dispose of him looks to be the beginning of the downward trail. Certain it is that unless Ruth can continue to hammer home runs, he will lose his value.

Cold calculation reveals the fact that aside from this Ruth is neither more nor less than mediocrity. He is distinguished for absolutely nothing else. The enormous salary which he is reputed to be receiving was based entirely on his reputation as a home run getter.

As a matter of fact, Ruth does not seem to have lost his ability to hit them out. At this writing he has played in 43 games and has 14 home runs to his credit. Last season he knocked out his sixteenth home run in his forty-third game so there is not much difference in the margin. However, he is considerably behind in his general batting ability as shown by his percentage for 1922. Last season it amounted to .356 per cent, while this year

Famed Athlete Plans to Enter Ministry

LEWISTON, Me., July 19.—Ray Baker, a runner of nationwide fame, holder of the state and New England two-mile record and a graduate of Bates college, will become pastor of the Congregational church at Oxford, Me.

During his work in the pulpit he will not, however, give up the running game. He will run an exhibition two miles at the celebration in Belfast, Me., and he will also keep in condition for the big track meet in Los Angeles, Calif., in 1923, where he will meet the crack runners of America and Europe.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

WHEN YOU MISS CHILDREN

"Not having children doesn't matter so much when you are young," a middle-aged woman said to me once, "then you want to go to places with your husband. And while you envy your friends who have the babies in some ways, you pity them, too, because they are so tied down and because they when you get middle-aged that you really envy the people with children."

"It isn't only that they enjoy their own children but when you have children of your own all the other young people come to the house. Now there's my next door neighbor. They have a girl 16 and a boy 18 and they are always having little parties and good times. I love young people and I know it keeps one young to be with them but, of course, they don't come to our house. Sometimes I have even thought of adopting a girl but my husband is against it."

They Loved Young People
"Doesn't he like young people, too?" I asked.
"Oh, yes," she said, "he loves them and they always like him but he thinks that's too much of a responsibility and a risk."

"But he wouldn't mind having young people around if he could come to them to come to the house?" I said.

"Oh, no, he would love it." "Then why don't you?" "How?"

"Who's to stop you from giving parties even if you haven't children of your own?" I asked. "Young people love to go to informal parties. Why don't you try and give some, and before you know it they will get in the habit of coming to your house."

A Great Success

At first the idea struck her as revolutionary and impossible. But later she not only accepted it but improved upon it. She got up several little parties for the sake of getting young people to come to the house. Then she got interested in the thing from another angle and tried to bring together young people who did not have many chances for meeting other young people. She has given great happiness and received as much if not more—happiness being one of the few things which one can both give away and keep at the same time.

Her parties are not anything elaborate, just a chance for congenial young people to get together, play some simple games, eat the simplest of refreshments and dance to the victrola.

Life's Picture Puzzle

I had a letter from a young woman the other day who asked me if I knew of any way she could meet young people in a new city to which she has recently gone. She has met a few at church but not many, and she is very lonely.

A day or two later I had a letter from a woman who said she wished I would tell her of some form of social service she could do without having to keep regular office hours. She could afford time and a little money.

Sometimes the two pieces of life's picture puzzle that fit together seem to come to hand naturally. This appears to be one of these times.

New York city schools graduate 90,000 pupils this year. Heavy travel "Over the Alps to Italy."

WOULD BOOST TARIFF
A Cornell professor who also is an egg and poultry fancier represented the poultry interests in the tariff hearings and put up an argument backed by charts and figures for a 10-cent duty, which is from two to three times former duties on eggs. Nobody has ever made money to speak of in the production of eggs, but handsome fortunes have been made in handling them.

TASTES DIFFER
In Belgium they crowned a white haired woman queen of the beauty show. But in this country the women continue to pull out the white hairs.

MODERN GIRLS SMARTER
At the age of 102 Mrs. Mary Anne Thompson of Winthrop, Mass., announces she is thinking of getting her hair bobbed. She probably has a sense of humor and is "stringing" us. Concerning flapperism, she comments: "The modern girl is much smarter than the young girls of my day. At heart they are the same lassies who on Sundays primly carried a little coal stove with them to church to keep their feet warm. Each generation thinks its young people are going to the dogs, and so far each has been mistaken."

FIRST AIR BABY
A young Frenchman has just been born in an airplane 6000 feet over the Mediterranean, with the airman speeding to a hospital, but the stork was swifter. This little chap is the first human being to have such a distinction conferred on him. The first submarine baby is yet to be rocked in the cradle of the deep.

CANADA IS LAUGHING
Ontario, Canada, recently experienced a severe attack of treasure-hunting fever. It is a tradition that years ago the Jesuit fathers sank a treasure chest at the bottom of the Wye river. Recently the inventor of a gold-finding needle arrived in the locality, and lo! and behold at a certain place in the river the needle dipped. It was a sure thing. A dredge moved tons of sand from the place where the lost treasure lay, and then a diver put on his diving suit and descended to locate the chest and hook chains around it. After a few minutes of intense excitement up it came. It was a nice, big, flat rock about six feet long.

Mrs. Green: I put them under the hen.

TURNED THE JOKE
It was lunch hour at the lime works, and Pat's two buddies, deciding to play a little joke on him during his absence, drew the features of a donkey upon the back of his coat, which he had left behind. In due time Pat returned, and presently hove in sight bearing the lime-decorated coat.
"What's the trouble, Pat?" asked one, trying to appear indifferent.
"Nothing much," replied Pat, equally indifferent; "only I'd like to know which one of yez wiped your face on me coat."

STUCK TO HIS BARGAIN
A canny Scot and his wife visited an aviation field and wished to take a ride in an airplane, but the aviator's charges seemed preposterous to the Scotchman. After much bickering the aviator, with a wink, agreed to take MacTavish and Maggie up for $5 if they didn't utter a word during the flight, but if they did, it would cost them $50.
The Scotchman agreed, and they started off. As soon as they got in the air the aviator dipped, looped the loop, and did every Now answer him.

Diet and Health By Lulu Hunt Peters, MD.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

SIGNING THE PLEDGE

WHEREAS, I am over-weight and I realize that by reducing I can improve my health, efficiency and happiness, and

WHEREAS, I am one of the units of a great public, and the improvement of the health of its units means the improvement of the health of this great public, and

WHEREAS, I realize my responsibility in the improvement of the public health,

THEREFORE, I desire to join your Watch-your-weight Class, and a promise I shall follow its directions insofar as is within my power. I shall play the game and do my part. I shall not cheat nor squeal. I PROMISE.

(Signed).....

Now, if you really want to reduce, sign the above. You will need all the aid you can get to strengthen your will, for it is as flabby as weak fello. I know. It's embarrassing to me to let you know how much I know about weak will power. This pledge will help yours mightily. Pin it up where it will face you night and morning. It will sink into your subconscious and direct you more than you dream.

I shall call for a report of your progress soon.

There is no catch in this. Nothing to sell, no system to exploit, no drugs to be used—nothing to do but to give you a knowledge of dietetics, and of exercise and of psychology.

I know of no cases of overweight that have not been improved by following this rational system. I do know of many cases that have had disastrous results by following blindly, advice to cut out all starches, all sweets, and all fats.

But we are not going to do that. We will even allow you some pie occasionally! Now you are willing to join the class? Up to this time you were, perhaps, lukewarm, for most of the advice you have read is that you must avoid all the things you like as you would avoid Asiatic cholera.

Why I am even going to let you eat potatoes! So—Sign the pledge. Send it in. Get weighed. Begin.

I didn't know that was going to rhyme. I see I have some talent as a poet. That's nice. Maybe you are a lover of rare poetry and I can help brighten your hard life as we go on.

While you are reducing I want you to get weighed in the same weight clothing, on the same scales. If possible, since scales sometimes vary, and at the same time every day in relation to eating and elimination. Once or twice a week is often enough to weigh unless you are the fortunate possessor of a bathroom scale.

Have you joined? All right. FIRST ORDER! SHRINK YOUR STOMACH!

Shrink your stomach! Good heavens, you have heard of shrinking flannels, shrinking violins, shrinking personalities, but you never heard of shrinking stomachs! Neither did I until it popped into my head one day as a good descriptive term. So, when shrinking stomach goes swinging around the world and everyone is wondering where it originated, remember it was I, your fat director, who started it.

Begin by going on a liquid diet for three days. I will direct you daily.

You may have any liquid you like providing that the total amount for the day does not go over 500 or 600 calories. If you like skim or buttermilk, take a glass of that every three hours. One glass (8 oz.) equals 80 calories. Six glasses would amount to 480 calories. If you use whole milk, you can take only half the amount you would of the skim or buttermilk for it has twice the fuel value. If you don't like milk, take fruit juice—a scant glass, 100 calories. If you want tea or coffee with cream or sugar or both, remember that one small teaspoonful of sugar is 25 calories and average cream is 100 calories for 1-1/2 oz. (about 3 tablespoons). Coffee and tea themselves are practically calorieless.

Don't total more than 500 or 600 calories during the day. Drink all the water you like. It is not fattening.

Wealthiest Girl In England Is Wedded

LONDON, July 19.—The prince of Wales was best man at the wedding of Prince Louis Mountbatten, nephew of King George, and Miss Edwin A. Ashley, richest girl in Great Britain, yesterday. King George, Queen Mary and Viscountess Lascelles and other members of the royal family were present.

It was announced that the bride and bridegroom would postpone their honeymoon until autumn, when they will go to the United States.

Heavenly, you have heard of shrinking flannels, shrinking violins, shrinking personalities, but you never heard of shrinking stomachs! Neither did I until it popped into my head one day as a good descriptive term. So, when shrinking stomach goes swinging around the world and everyone is wondering where it originated, re-

If you live on your irrigated vineyard at Fontana, you probably would have most of the work done by contract. One tractor, one set of tools will care for ten 10-acre tracts as well as one.

And if you owned a vineyard and didn't want to live there, you could have your vineyard cared for, and the grapes harvested, by contract, as well.

Cultural cost is low. Harvesting cost is low. Crop is very reliable. Prices promise to be good. A fifty per cent per annum return on the cost is not an extravagant estimate.

Rich and Pure for Rich and Poor

The richness and purity of Maid o' Clover Butter are due to three important factors:

1. Material—selected cream from mountain meadows.
2. Equipment—sanitary and modern in every respect.
3. Care—on the part of expert butter makers.

BEAUTY CHATS by EDNA KENT FORBES

READING YOUR OWN PALM

A great palmist, by name D'Arpentigny, says that there are seven classes of hands. "The elementary or large palmed hands, which are the lowest type, the active or spiculate hands, the artistic or conical shape, the useful hand, which is square, the philosophic or knotted hand, the psychic or pointed hand, and the mixed hand."

The important point in the elementary hand is the proportionate length of palm and fingers, the larger the fingers the better the hand, the larger the palm the more the animal rules.

In the spiculate hand the palm is broader at the base and the fingers at the tips. Discoverers, inventors and energetic people have such a hand. The artistic is one of the most attractive types, the palm being slightly tapering, the fingers broad at the base with nice nails. Conical hands belong to people who are impressionable, impetuous, generous and emotional—not necessarily a good type, it depends on the amount of emotionalism.

The square hand is square all over, at the wrist, at the base of the fingers, even the finger tips. This is a practical hand, the people are usually methodical and orderly, apt to be hidebound, lacking in imagination but full of perseverance.

The philosophic hand is generally long and rather angular, with bony fingers ending in long nails, the knuckles knotted and large. It is the hand of an ambitious person but one who seeks power through knowledge and for the sake of knowledge, rather than from selfish or material motives.

The psychic hand is long, narrow, delicate, with tapering fingers and almond shaped nails. The mixed hand cannot be classified.

GLENDALE EVENING NEWS Story Contest for Children

First Prize: $5.00 Cash, given by The Glendale Evening News; Second Prize: $3.50 2-A Brownie Kodak, given by Roberts & Echols; Third Prize: $1.50 Fancy Box of Kaighin's Quality Chocolates by Kaighin's Candy Factory; Fourth Prize: $1.00 Worth of Tickets to T. D. & L. Theatre.

Here's your opportunity to see whether you have in the family an embryonic Mark Twain, a Frances Hodgson Burnett or an advertising man or woman. Through the generosity of a number of Glendale business men, several prizes have been offered on "Why I Like My Home"—and it gives the children a chance to tell in their own words just why they like their home surroundings. We don't want to make too many suggestions about the essays, for it tends to limit the imagination of the child; but we want to emphasize the fact if there is a romping dog, or a friend of the child's, he might very well find a place in the story. Same way with the cat—the child's garden—play-room—dad's garage—the family auto—the interior of the house, papa, mamma, aunts, grandparents—all are proper subjects for partial discussion.

In other words, have your child or child friend write on why he loves his home, why his home is dear to him—all of us grown-ups know what "Home, Sweet Home" means—but few know the child's idea of it. The best stories of 600 words or less will be paid for with prizes enumerated in the heading. Contest open to every boy and girl in Glendale under 16—every child has a chance—for the age of the kiddie will be taken into consideration. The best stories will be published in The Evening News. All stories must be mailed or brought to

The News office by Tuesday noon, July 18. The names of winners will be published in this paper next Wednesday.

RIGHTS OF LITTLE CHILDREN MUST COME FIRST

Senator Hiram Johnson In Statement Gives Views On Great Problem

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—The rights of little children come before state's rights in the heart and mind of Senator Hiram W. Johnson. Senator Johnson so announces in a statement setting forth his reasons for introducing to proposed constitutional amendment abolishing child labor in this country. Johnson offered his amendment after the supreme court had declared the child labor law passed by Congress unconstitutional. In his statement, he says:

"It is true my proposed amendment to the constitution would affect the rights of states, but it unfortunately is equally true that the object sought, salutary and necessary as it is, cannot be attained apparently under the decisions of the supreme court, in any other way.

Ordinarily I would not wish to invade the prerogatives of the states; but if the welfare of little children requires it, I would not for an instant hesitate. Most of the states with true vision for citizenship have already done the work. Some of them refuse to keep step with the progress made to the protection of children.

Good Answers Arguments

These few must be made, if it be within the realm of possibility, to do their duty to their young, even if this demands a slight invasion of states' rights. The good answers conclusively the old and familiar argument of invading states' rights.

The interest and agitation following the decision of the supreme court declaring the most recent laws of our progress, and mark the predominance of humanity in our social and economic life.

The cry, of course, is raised that giving Congress the power to legislate for our young is an invasion of the rights of the states. Public opinion, however, prefers the welfare, the health, and development of little children to maintaining intact the old view of the individual state's privileges. Out of the present agitation will come a remedy for the decisions of the courts. How it will come, those of us who prefer the substance to the mode, do not care, but certainly it must. The senate is so clogged with work that with the opposition of some southern senators, it is doubtful if the constitutional amendment I have proposed can be heard this session; but if it cannot be taken up at this session, it will be at the next session in December. In the meantime, the matter will be pressed in the house.

Fight To Continue

The effort to protect children will go on, without cessation or

W. H. Armstrong to Be Gone Two Months

W. H. Armstrong of 353 West Lexington drive expects to leave Los Angeles Thursday night for a two months' vacation and business trip to various parts of the east and middle west. From here he will go to Portland, Oregon, and, after spending several days at the Rose City, will leave for North Dakota.

Next, going to South Dakota, he will be joined by his wife, who left Glendale a month ago. They will then travel to Minneapolis, Minnesota, their former home, where most of their time will be spent visiting with former neighbors and friends.

Before returning to California Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong will make several brief stops in Michigan. They expect to be again at home in this city about the middle of September.

Rowland Walters and Bride Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Walters, whose marriage took place Friday night, June 30, 1922, at the Tropic Methodist church, have returned from a trip and are at home at Brand boulevard and Doran street.

Mrs. Walters was formerly Miss Nadine Marguerite Hession. She is the daughter of Mrs. Daisy D. Hession of Big Pine, Calif. Mr. Walters, who made his home with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Palmer of 1136 East Elk avenue, is in the employ of the Standard Oil company in Los Angeles.

Former Illinois Folk to Picnic Sunday

Illinoisans, now Glendaleans, are going to pack their lunch baskets next Saturday and journey to Long Beach to take part in a big summer reunion in Bixby Park. There will be a large number of the 200,000 suckers now in California at the gathering. H. J. Brubaker is in charge of plans for the day's events.

relaxation, until the result is wholly attained.

Congress on several occasions has made the effort to enact child labor laws. In each instance, the laws passed have been declared unconstitutional. The latest decision was that rendered May 15, by the supreme court in the case of Bally vs. Drexel Furniture Company, which declared the portion of the Revenue Act, which attempted to regulate the employment of children unconstitutional, because it conflicted with the Tenth Amendment.

Apparently, the situation can be met in no other way than by an amendment of the constitution. The subject is of such importance, that what is fundamentally sound, that what is necessary to its consummation should be done. Because under the decisions of the supreme court we can only regulate the employment of child labor, apparently, by a constitutional amendment, I have proposed an amendment to the Article, which the supreme court has held is an inseparable barrier at the present time to this humane and beneficent legislation.

LABOR BOARD HEAD HAS PRETTY GIRL AS SECRETARY

She Is Blue-Eyed, She Is Blonde and She Is Daughter of 'Dad'

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN For International News Service.

CHICAGO, July 19.—Clinging to the "somewhat obsolete" theory that every girl should try to do something worth while, Miss Anna B. Hooper, 19-year-old daughter of Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the United States railroad labor board, today is at work as "Dad's" private secretary.

The buoyant young daughter of the former governor of Tennessee meets callers at the labor board offices, takes dictation from members of the board, files letters, looks up reports and handles the job with the sang froid of her male predecessor.

Southern Drawl

Speaking with a soft southern drawl, Miss Hooper admitted she didn't have to work, but "just forced 'Dad' to give her a chance to do something." She and "Dad" always have been "pals," and she insisted on sharing some of his trials and tribulations as head of the railway labor board.

The only thing flapperish about her is her age, Miss Hooper smilingly admitted.

"I won't hob my hair," she said. "Bobbed hair raises a question in the minds of people. I don't believe it's a good idea to be flippy. Bobbed-haired girls are often superficial. I don't approve of extreme clothes either."

"Cigarettes? Goodness, no! Cigarette smoking by women is coarse and unladylike. And, aside from the ethics of the thing, it hurts one's looks."

Is Blue-Eyed Blonde

Miss Hooper herself is an exceedingly attractive, blue-eyed blonde. The oldest of six children, she is proud of the way she can "keep house." Ask grandfather, down in Newport, Tenn.

She said she hasn't as yet made up her mind as to her goal in life. She is specializing in voice culture and has some ambition to become a singer. Mother is a beautiful singer.

Matrimony? Certainly!

"But excuse me from the effeminate cake-eater with the Valentino hair cut!" she added. "I want a man of character—a man with a high moral code, not necessarily a Sunday school teacher either. Then I will marry and rear a family. Am I old fashioned?"

"I see it's fashionable to tilt your fiancé. Well, I don't like the idea at all. It's not square!"

The buzzer buzzed.

It was "Dad." He had some dictation.

LOUD SPEAKER FOR RECEIVING SET

Sterling S. Sears has just completed a loud speaker for crystal sets that is satisfactory in every form. Sears utilizes a special electrodynamic receiving unit and small low potential battery and horn. He is shown with his loud speaker on his crystal radio set.

RADIO EXPLAINED

By E. H. LEWIS
INSTRUCTOR NEW YORK Y.M.C.A. RADIO SCHOOL

RADIO FREQUENCY AMPLIFICATION

The output of a vacuum tube depends, naturally, upon the input voltage, since if the applied grid potentials are increased in amplitude the plate current variations will also be increased. In addition to this, the vacuum tube when operating as a rectifier or detector is more efficient if comparatively large input voltages are available than when the input is very small. In fact, the input may be so small under certain conditions that the tube will detect very poorly or not at all. This is frequently the case when the receiver is located at a great distance from the sending station or when a loop antenna is used at shorter distances. It is not meant by this that a receiving set will not operate on a loop antenna, but rather that when the voltage and current in a loop or any other antenna are too weak the detector will not function well, often not at all.

There are ways, however, by which the voltages in the antenna system may be amplified before application to the detector input or grid circuit. One method is simple radio frequency amplification by which one tube or two or more tubes in cascade connection may serve to amplify the radio frequency oscillations before they are rectified. This would be a case of voltage amplification. Another method is to feed back the radio frequency oscillations from the plate circuit to the grid circuit in step, so that the resulting voltages applied to the grid of the detector tube are "boosted."

This method is called regeneration and is due to Mr. E. H. Armstrong.

In most cases when the simple radio frequency amplifying circuits are used in connection with very short waves (very high radio frequencies) there is somewhat greater regeneration than straight radio frequency amplification. This is usually due to coupling between output and input circuits caused by the arrangements of the circuits or by the internal tube capacities. Adjustments may be made, however, to eliminate regenerations, to a large extent, in such circuits.

One of the greatest advantages of radio frequency amplification lies in the fact that any current or voltage fluctuations at an audible frequency are amplified to a much lesser extent. The signals in the telephone receivers are consequently more free from local noises than is the case with audio frequency amplification after detection. The principal difficulty with operation of radio frequency circuits is the interelectrode capacity of the vacuum tube. Capacitive reactance, an effective resistance to alternating or oscillating currents, decreases with an increase in frequency or capacity. The interelectrode tube capacities are usually somewhat too great for very high frequency, and the result is that capacitive reactances are frequently so low as to have the effect of short circuits. This difficulty may be overcome, however, to a great extent and various circuits will be described in succeeding articles.

A LOW PRICED TWO STEP AMPLIFIER

A low priced two step amplifier, using audio frequency and made to connect on any receiving other line and spaced as much as possible to avoid capacity effects, which cause howling in the loud speaker. Two binding posts, two Paragon rheostats, two jacks and a formica panel, with neat engraving, finished up in a mahogany case, make a very neat looking set.

The unit appeals particularly to those who have a crystal set and wish to get louder signals or to those who have the better type of receiving set and are using only a detector. The addition of this unit at a low price enables the user to put a loud speaker in the circuit and gives very good results. The transformers, jacks, binding posts and rheostats are all standard and have proven themselves before being incorporated in this amplifier.

Five Battle Planes Aid Irish Regulars

DUBLIN, July 19.—A squadron of five battle planes is now assisting the advance of the free state troops through southern Ireland. It was announced today. The aviators are used chiefly for scout duties and to direct the movements of the regular soldiers.

Although outnumbered in many places, the regulars continue to throw back the rebels all along the line. The free states now hold the line running through New Ross, Kilkenny, Menagh and Thurles.

Civil life in Limerick is at a standstill as a result of the fighting in that city. Sniping is continuous. Many buildings have been wrecked by the battle which raged in Limerick for five days last week.

Aged Woman Beaten to Death, Believed

INDIANAPOLIS, July 19.—The body of Mrs. Mary B. Toon, 74, who, from marks of violence showing on her head, it was evicted had been beaten to death, was found today by her son near a shed in the back yard of her home here.

The aged woman's home was tightly locked up and first police who arrived on the scene were unable to find a motive for the brutal murder.

James Oliver Curwood Story Picturized; Well Known Players on Screen

"I Am the Law," the feature picture now showing at the T. D. & L. theatre, is considered one of the few great snow pictures. Its cast alone is noteworthy, consisting of the following well known players: Kenneth Harland, Alice Lake, Gaston Glass, Wallace Berry, Noah Berry and Rosemary Theby.

The story is James Oliver Curwood's—that master writer of fiction whose tales of the far north have filled the hearts of the reading public for adventure, romance, thrills, pathos and deep human understanding.

"I Am the Law" sparkles with action that sweeps clear through to the end in breathless fashion. It is a big, virile, wholesome feature produced and enacted admirably.

The Toonerville comedy on the same program is a roaring success. It is chuck full of "ticklish" situations to make you laugh. Then there is a news reel which adds to this big mid-week offering at the T. D. & L.

Emma Brosseau to Give Church Benefit

A lawn fete at the home of Miss Emma Brosseau at 439 West Vine street is being planned by the women of the Holy Family Catholic church parish for Saturday afternoon and night as a benefit for the church fund.

During the afternoon there will be cards and a musical program, arranged by Miss Dorothea Vogel. In the evening there will be another musical program, dancing and refreshments. All church members and friends have been invited to the affair, at which the usual donation will be received.

Whiskers Tough or Razor Rather Dull

FORT WORTH, Texas.—Call for Mr. Solomon!

The seventeenth district court must decide whether S. E. Houthens of this city wears a tough, obstinate beard or whether he attacked said beard with a faulty razor.

Houthens bought the razor from a barber supply company. But, alas, when he arose happy next morning his day was utterly ruined at the beginning, for either the blade wouldn't cut or else the beard refused to be cut by a novice instrument.

Houthens filed suit in Justice of the Peace McCain's court, alleging that the razor was ill mannered, caused his face extreme misery, and was anything but the nice, gentle razor the company claimed for it when sold.

The lower court gave Houthens judgment for $4, the company having to pay costs of $2.60. The law does not permit an appeal to be taken to the district court when the amount involved is less than $20, but the barber supply company was not discouraged, and asked for an injunction restraining payment of the judgment, alleging in its appeal that Houthens took the razor home and without sharpening it introduced it to his wiry whiskers. A temporary injunction was granted.

Postoffice to Try Time Off Saturdays

"The department," says Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson, "has ruled that when it is possible without interfering with the service, postal employees shall be allowed a little time off on Saturdays."

The experiment is to be tried in the local office, and if the results are satisfactory, the practice will be continued. Mr. Jackson emphasizes the point, however, that no "off" periods will be allowed which might cause a curtailment of the postal service.

"We are just like any other large business house," states Mr. Jackson, "and we must run our affairs in much the same manner as they do. We have a certain force, and we cannot take on any more so that some may have some time to themselves. However, if we find that the employees can handle all their duties as they are now being handled, and still have a little extra time, they are to be allowed that period off on Saturdays."

The personnel is efficient in its work, states the postmaster, and if they can so increase their efficiency as to finish their work in less time, they are certainly entitled to have the saved time for their own purposes. The government edict upholds this point, stating that where such recesses do not interfere in any way with service, they are to be granted.

Knights of Pythias Plan Entertainments

The local organization of the Knights of Pythias met last night at their hall on the corner of Brand boulevard and Park avenue with a large number of visiting members in attendance.

Plans were laid for the first of a series of monthly entertainments, to be held on the evening of Thursday, July 27. The entire evening will be turned over to "fun and frolic," and will consist of dancing, cards and various other diversions. The event will be an invitational affair and is in the hands of the following committee, which was appointed last night: Attorney G. H. King, E. S. Melzer and M. J. Edwards. It was stated that "any brother or sister" who is desirous of inviting friends to attend the party should get in touch with one of the committeemen.

More complete announcements regarding the affair will be made at a later date, when the various features of the program will become known. All Pythian Knights and Sisters and their friends and relatives are urged to attend.

TAKE TURNS AT WHEEL

The new Chevrolet touring car, which was purchased recently by the grammar school board of trustees, is now being driven alternately by Supt. Richardson D. White and David B. Black, business agent for the district. The Ford touring car has been exchanged for a Ford ton truck.

Discuss Sludge System for Sewage Disposal; Seek

only save money, for it would not cost nearly as much as we are spending for cesspools, but it would also save the human lives which undoubtedly will be lost if we persist with our cesspools and an epidemic comes upon us.
"Glendale is now so situated that ground is available for a plant, and now is the time to get that ground and put in our sewer system. No provision is being made for Glendale in the Los Angeles sewer system which is to be voted upon next month. They would not allow us to operate a sewer farm on their watershed, and the only thing I can see for Glendale to do is to install the sludge system."

"People seem to have such misinformed ideas about the activated sludge system that the name scares them. As a matter of fact it would take only five or six days to install the plant. After that flowers and shrubs could be planted on the grounds and our sewer plant made to look like a city park. It would not depreciate the value of property in the immediate vicinity, because it can be made slightly and because no disagreeable factors result from it."

City's Requirements
"Glendale would require, I believe, only four acres for the plant itself and forty acres for the disposal of residue."

Following his talk Mr. Hewitt answered questions which were put to him by members of the organization.

He stated that the septic tank system which is in use in Pomona is not satisfactory, and that it seems to be out of commission about half of the time. Pasadena, he said, which has a sewer farm, is about to install a system similar to that which he advises for Glendale.

Asked about the position of the city officials on the sewer question, Mr. Hewitt stated that they were open for any proposition which would satisfactorily take care of the sewage.

G. D. Mason of the Verdugo Woodlands Improvement association stated that more than a year ago the district had been assessed for a sewer system and sludge plant, but the system had been laid but the plant not installed, and that conditions in that locality demanded immediate relief. The installation of a sludge plant for that district as was intended, he stated, would not only clear the situation there, but would also prove by actual operation the efficacy of such a system.

Questions from various of the representatives of improvement associations were answered by Mr. Hewitt, who was tendered a vote of thanks by the organization.

Los Angeles Speaker

A motion was passed that representatives qualified to speak for Los Angeles and for the county of Los Angeles be secured for the next meeting of the association, so as to give everybody an accurate idea of what Glendale might expect from the city and county on the sewer question. Dr. Russell was named to secure the speakers, and the date for the meeting was set for some evening next week, the exact date to be decided when it is found on which days the speakers can be secured.

A motion that the selection of a name for the organization be carried over until a later meeting was passed and later rescinded. It was then that the name "Federation of Improvement Associations of Glendale" was selected.

Another motion provides that in the absence of the regular representatives the president and associations the president should be empowered to select three alternate delegates to the federation meetings.

Closed to Public
It was also decided that since only a small but representative body can accomplish anything of importance without many meetings devoted to argument and explanation, the meetings of the federation should be closed to the public until such time as definite courses of action may be decided upon. At that time it is planned to have a mass meeting.

The members of the Federation of Improvement associations of Glendale, as announced by Dr. Russell, are: E. H. Botsford, Glendale Foothill Improvement association; William Griffin, president San Fernando Boulevard association; P. C. Ayers and Alex Mitchell of the Foothill association; John L. Bolen, president of the Verdugo Woodlands Improvement association; Thomas D. Watson, civics committee, Chamber of Commerce; H. C. Levey, president Glendale Avenue Improvement association; A. B. Heacock, of the same association; G. D. Mason, Verdugo Woodlands association; L. C. Denman, South Glendale Improvement association; Roy Johnston, San Fernando Boulevard association; Della Mae Butler, Verdugo Woodlands Improvement association; C. W. Ingledue, president East Glendale Advancement association, and Mr. Leigh of the same association.

SOLUTION OF PROBLEM ARISING FROM IMMIGRATION BIG ISSUE

James J. Davis, Naturalized Welshman, Who Has Risen to Power, Gives His Views

By HARRY WARD
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, July 19.—"Immigration in America, from the earliest days to the present time, has been called the greatest movement of people in the history of the world. But changed conditions, not only in our own country, but in the world at large, have made the present problem of handling immigration entirely different from what it was 40 years ago, or even ten years ago, and far more difficult."

Secretary of Labor James J. Davis thus characterizes one of the greatest problems now confronting the United States. "We no longer have the unlimited room that used to come to our shores," said Secretary Davis, under whose department the immigration laws are administered. "Every dictate of reason compels us to use the utmost care in the selection of our immigrants."

"At first sight," he says, "it might seem strange that the immigration service of the United States should be under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Labor. A single reminder will serve to correct this impression. The overwhelming majority of the aliens who come here to make America their home have come here to work. Most of them are prepared to start modestly at the very bottom. The day of the man who chiefly sought a greater political liberty is past, in the main; the man who comes today is a seeker after economic freedom. He comes to toil, to make a place for himself by work."

Americanization Work
"And it was no mere accident that placed these people under the direction of the cabinet officer who is authorized by congress to foster, promote and develop the welfare of the wage earners of the United States, to improve their working conditions and to advance their opportunities for profitable employment. The same wise provision placed the naturalization of these new citizens and their proper Americanization under the care of the Secretary of Labor."

It is a grave responsibility, Davis admits, and he then told of his own entry into the country. "It must have been 30 or 40 years ago, when I myself came here as an immigrant boy, little dreaming that as Secretary of Labor I should be vested with the duty of caring for the thousands of other immigrants who come here now," he said.

"Jim" Davis, as he is affectionately called by thousands of the workers of the country, came from Wales with his parents, only a boy and was a wage earner in the tin mills for many years before he was called by President Harding to be a member of the cabinet.

Work Is Heavy
"For many reasons the duty of administering the immigration law is heavier than it was when I came over," the secretary added. "In fact," he said, "it is a complicated and yet burning human problem of handling our immigration of the present day is so little understood that I feel moved to explain it, at least in some part."

"In former times it was not alone the hope of bettering their economic condition that drove citizens of other countries to draw a new life in ours. It was more than a new and better home and better wages and a chance to rise and become perhaps rich and illustrious under our freer institutions that brought these people here. Such considerations undoubtedly counted with our immigrants of those former days, but a great many of them came to us with a far stronger motive than that. They sought political liberty in the shelter of American democracy. They believed that we had a better form of government, and they came chiefly for love of it."

"The war left many of the European countries in a sad economic condition, while at the same time deprived them of some of their best men—their strong men—so much needed at the present time in the reconstruction of their national life. The really patriotic men who went through the fire of battle for their country are not now running from their native duty; they are sticking by their governments. These are the men who in years past came to us and helped in the upbuilding of our country; they are not coming to us now."

Has Marked Effect
"This situation has had a marked effect upon the immigration which is coming to America. The ravages of war have caused epidemics of disease and starvation. Growing babes and children have been undernourished and improperly cared for, resulting in physical and mental cripples. Hearing of the better conditions in America they decided to abandon their own countries—to shirk their responsibilities and seek a better condition which the sturdier character of the better peoples of their races helped to build up in our New World in the years gone by."

"A little more than a year ago it became evident to observers here that these lowest types of the countries of Europe and Asia were preparing to move, almost en masse, to America. Men and women afflicted with typhus, leprosy, fava, ringworm, venereal and other loathsome diseases, were brought to our shores. There were hopeless cripples and, worse still, imbeciles and idiots. Investigations of the reports of the millions of people of the slums and ghettos of the Old World coming this way were made by congress and found to be substantially true, and as a result we have now on our statute books a restrictive law which will permit to come into our country a maximum of 355,000 people in one year. It is the administration of that law which makes the task of the Secretary of Labor a difficult one."

America Is Loser
Davis says that there is no doubt but that the change in the type of immigration of the last few years is a distinct loss to America.

"Some of our greatest figures," he says, "have been immigrants who performed, in return for the privilege of citizenship, the most brilliant and useful services to the nation. They have been great soldiers and publicists, like Carl Schurz; great captains of industry, like Andrew Carnegie; great financiers and philanthropists, like the late Jacob H. Schiff. It has happened in my own case to year at the United States immigration station at Ellis Island and forty years afterward to be charged with the responsibility of directing all the immigration stations. To this day no one knows which one of the thousands of newcomers streaming into the country every year will turn out to be some heaven-sent genius who will bring great ideas for the improvement of our land."

It is the belief of Secretary Davis that the poverty and depression elsewhere in the world, as a result of the war, would have sent to America a tide of immigration overwhelmingly greater than anything that stands in our past records.

"This deluge of stricken people, accustomed to a lower standard of life in other countries and ready to accept almost any wage, would have been a grave danger to our country at any time," he asserted. "At a time of business depression and unemployment such as we have had in the past year and a half the danger would have been colossal."

Danger Is Averted
"Fortunately the danger was seen nearly in time, but not quite. The danger itself was averted; the tide of immigration was cut down to the safety point. But the law itself had to be drafted in some haste. Had sufficient time been allowed certain defects in the law might have been foreseen and corrected. These defects, however, now are being added. We should congratulate ourselves that a great threat to the country has been warded off in time."

Davis explained that the so-called "three per cent law" derives its name from the fact that it limits the immigrants for the year from any foreign country to 3 per cent of the total number of people of the same nationality who are already in America, as determined by the census of 1910.

Sees Steamship Company
The Labor Secretary scored certain steamship companies who, in their greed to secure immigrants, flagrantly violated the law.

"Two and sometimes three competing companies have each at times packed a ship with a full allotment of immigrants from some nation," he said. "It is obvious that only one shipload of these immigrants could be landed, and the rival ships have raced across the ocean, each speeding to make sure of being the first to arrive, and of course the only one to land its allotment of aliens. It is equally obvious that the immigrants who are packed on these ships, after perhaps having sold their homes and invested their all in a ticket to America, must be turned back to Europe, homeless and without a penny."

According to Secretary Davis, some of these cases of the deporting of aliens are genuinely distressing. When they could Secretary Davis stretched a point, as it has been his aim to administer the law humanely and to let the doubtful alien stay in this country whenever it was possible without violating the laws. But, in countless cases, he pointed out, where an alien is subject to deportation, the distressful circumstances surrounding the case have been worked up for the express purpose of stirring public sympathy and forcing the Secretary of Labor to strain the law and withhold deportation.

CALLED GRANDMA, ESTHER SMITH IS YET ALERT

Takes Much Interest In All
Daily Affairs; Considers
Bobbing Her Hair

and Grandma writes her "little sister" a bit every day. She also writes to friends in other parts of the United States and she has proof of her relatives' and her friends' thoughts by the many letters and cards she receives regularly.

It was only last year that Grandma Smith had the pleasure of writing a sketch of the early days in White Water for the old settlers' celebration. Her sketch was published by the White Water paper and was said to be the most authentic account of the early days that could be secured.

Early Experiences
Grandma Smith was born in Columbia county in New York state. Her father was an Englishman and her mother was born in the Colonies. The mother died when Grandma was but a small girl and shortly after the mother's death they moved to Massachusetts.

From Massachusetts they decided to go to the northwest and Grandma tells of their trip from Massachusetts to Albany, N. Y., on the cars, then from Albany to Buffalo by the canal and from Buffalo across the lakes to Milwaukee. The trip from Buffalo to Milwaukee was attempted twice and finally made in eight days.

The family settled in White Water and there Grandma grew up, married and reared her family. It was 11 years ago that she came to California to live with her daughter and son.

Way to Make Fire
Grandma's memory of the days before matches is very vivid and one of her treasures of the old home is the contraption with which they made fire. "Contraption" is Grandma's appellation and she describes it as "a contraption in which there was first a little wheel, then a piece of cotton, then a piece of string and then a piece of flint. We would pull the string around the wheel, then hold the piece of flint against the moving wheel and the sparks would fly into the cotton and we would have fire. And if we lost this 'contraption' we might have to go three or four miles to borrow some fire."

"Then the way my father used to light his pipe, was to fill the pipe and get out in the sun and hold a small piece of glass between the sun and tobacco and the heat and glass would cause the fire."

Saving of Candles
"Of course we had candles, but we were very saving of them and I well remember seeing people fill a saucer with grease, then take a piece of rag and wrap it around a button and put it in the center of the saucer and light it for a wick."

"When we cooked we did it over a big open fireplace, equipped with a crane for hanging the kettles. And when my grandmother baked she used a tin oven, open on one side and large enough for three or four loaves of bread or three or four pans of biscuit. The oven was set near the roaring fire and the bread or biscuits dried nicely brown. When we wanted to fry meat we would take a long handled shovel and put some coals to one side and then put the spider on them."

Make Clothes by Hand
"A sewing machine was never heard of and every girl and woman knew how to make her own and her family's clothes by hand. The first bit of sewing I ever did was to make a pair of pants for my little brother."

Grandma keeps closely in touch with everything in the world of today and, although she thinks that the modern girl's skirts are a trifle short and that riding is the modern motor vehicle a bit risky, nevertheless she's quite in sympathy with the bobbed hair and said with a smile, "I've even thought of having my hair bobbed!"

COME HERE FOR VISIT
Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Buttery and children Marcus and Virginia, and Miss Valma Vaughan of Henrietta, Okla., have arrived for a visit of two weeks with Mr. Buttery's mother, Mrs. Alice R. Buttery of 335 West Harvard street. They motored west, coming by way of the Grand Canyon.

Freight by Air to Be Effective Soon

LOS ANGELES.—America, within the next five years, will see the regular operation of airway load carriers transporting heavy freight and passengers at commercially satisfactory rates, according to Charles S. Hall, of this city, who heads a staff of experts engaged in surveying air routes and testing inventions essential to the operation of load carrying types of aircraft.

Hall gave a review of the subject today and expressed the belief that the combination of features necessary to make air freight safe and cheap enough to justify making an established business of it is now available. Radio telephony, practical aerography, non-inflammable gas which is lighter than air, aluminum alloys to permit lightness in framework construction, and the development of aerial navigation—these are a few features which have "arrived" to help make the building of large carriers for heavy loads possible, he asserted.

"We have worked for five years on the problem of 'profit and loss' as part of our effort to get airway rates down where business men could see them," said Hall, "and there are three big weaknesses in the large airship which militate against adapting it for scheduled commercial transportation."

"One is that of safety, which is now met by ground communication and fog-flying possibilities through development of the wireless. Safety is also advanced by the possibility of a non-inflammable levitating gas."

"The second weakness is the lack of cheap power. We have not as yet the proper power, for gasoline is not cheap fuel, and it takes up a great deal of weight that might otherwise go into 'payload.' This will probably be overcome after the air carriers are in operation, for inventors will then understand what is needed most."

"The third and most vital deficiency in adapting the military airship to commercial work is the payroll. The big airships may be handled on the ground by soldiers and sailors, regardless of whether five or 500 men may be needed. Mechanical control is therefore absolutely necessary in handling the load-carrying ships."

"We have attacked the problem both from the air and ground viewpoint, and the result is a new type of propeller which can give immediate efficiency when desired. This invention will be introduced shortly for practical use on aircraft," Hall said.

AT REV. TINNING'S HOME

Dr. J. T. Reed and family of San Diego, are guests at the home of Rev. Louis Tinning at 220 N. Belmont street. Dr. Reed is a dental surgeon and is attending the national dental conference at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles.

Laying Foundation of Presbyterian Church

Concrete will be poured continuously today and tonight until the foundation is in place for the immense tower of the new Presbyterian church.

This tower will be 132 feet in height and will weigh 2,500 tons. This weight will be borne entirely by its own foundation and no portion of the tower will be supported by any other portion of the edifice.

In order to secure a firm foundation 136 cubic yards of concrete is being poured today. This covers a space about twenty feet square and about three feet deep. The concrete is reinforced by seven tons of steel rods all properly bolted together. Six hundred and fifty sacks of cement are being used.

Foundations for the church are being put in under the foremanship of Robert Bird of 435 West Forty-first street, Los Angeles. A gang of seven men are at work today. They are being kept busy managing the concrete mixer. Because of the nature of the job it will be necessary for the concrete to be poured without interruption until it is all in place. Mr. Bird estimated this morning that this portion of the work could be completed about noon tomorrow. At the last moment he was disappointed in not being able to obtain another concrete mixer.

As soon as the foundation for the tower has set, the concrete will be poured for the remainder of the church foundation. This will require about three weeks because of the fact that the wooden framework will be moved from place to place in order that the waste of lumber may be as little as possible. Rev. Louis Tinning, assistant pastor, stated this morning that the construction of the church would require at least a year.

Cost of Living Is Once More Rising

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The cost of living is again on the rise. It took another jump upward in June, the department of labor announced today in reporting that wholesale prices for June were 1.3 per cent above May. And May prices had increased 3½ per cent over April.
